Five Marchers Sustain Hurts

. . . MAYOR URGES RESTRAINT

Birmingham Ala. (UPI)—Police dogs and fire hoses routed crowds of Negroes Friday as hundreds of school age youngsters attempted to stage antisegregation marches.

Five Negroes reported they were either bitten by the leashed dogs or injured by streams of water.

Two policemen were hospitalized with injuries inflicted by rocks thrown by Negroes officials said.

Despite criticism from Washington Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. vowed that demonstrations Saturday would exceed those of the past two days in which about 900 persons have been arrested.

Thursday was D Day in Birmingham King said Saturday will be Double D Day.

As Negroes stepped up demonstrations Mayor Albert Boutwell appealed for "restraint and peace."

Boutwell considered more moderate than his predecessors who pledged immediate and determined attention to resolving the difficulties facing us. But a two government dispute has delayed his taking full authority.

He urged a halt to demonstrations.

Hope, Pray

I hope and pray that the adult citizens white and colored alike will realize that the future of a great city depends upon their good conduct and self restraint" Boutwell said.

In Washington Atty Gen Robert F. Kennedy issued a statement in which he said, "continued refusal to grant equal rights and opportunities to Negroes makes increasing tumult inevitable."

But he went on to question the methods used by the Negro leaders and to say, school children participating in street demonstrations is dangerous business. An injured maimed or dead child is a price none of us can afford to pay.

Kennedy spoke of very real and deep injustices that he said the city's Negro and white communities know have been inflicted on Birmingham Negroes but added, in meetings in good faith negotiations and not in the streets.

"I hope for the sake of everyone that this can be done.

Ambulances took 4 Negroes from the church where the demonstrations started near the downtown business district. Milton Payne, 23, exhibiting leg wounds said he was bitten by a police dog.

Another Negro Henry Lee Shambry, 34, said he was bitten by two police dogs. One of his trouser legs was ripped nearly off and his underclothing was bloodstained.

Bleeding

A woman, Vivian Lowe, was bleeding from the nose. She said she was injured by a stream of water from the fire hoses. An unidentified girl suffered cuts about her eyes when struck by the stream of water.

Some Negroes mostly onlookers tried to resist officers and one pulled a pocket knife on an officer with a dog. Police grabbed several belligerents and at least one was caught around the neck by an officer.

About 60 Negroes were jailed in the first series of attempted marches. Two hours later 50 other marchers were turned back by water hoses.

Cut Classes

After two diversionary matches in the block around the church, about 50 teenagers started marching toward the downtown area. They had skipped school classes.

Police blocked off the entire section surrounding the church.

Another group left minutes later headed in another direction.

Arrested

An unidentified white man attempted to run his car into one group. He was jerked from the car and arrested by officers.

With batons brandishing their hoses, a policeman with a loudspeaker warned the marchers, "Disperse or you'll get wet."

The teenagers most of them 13 to 16 kept moving together.

Then the water hit them. Covering first with hands over their heads, then on their knees or clinging together with their arms around each other they tried to hold them ground.

Some of the Negroes, milling in the park opposite the church, began yelling threateningly at officers. Police Commissioner Eugene Connor ordered the dogs brought in.

All you gotta do is tell them you're going to bring the dogs," said Connor.

Look at em run. Bring the dogs anyway captain.

After calling for the dogs, Connor yelled to an officer, "You was holding back a crowd of white onlookers.

Show Them

Let those people come to the corner, Seiggent," Connor said.

I want them to see the dogs work. Took at those niggers run.

The crowds of Negroes fled with policemen and dogs running after them. Some Negroes threw rocks and other missiles either at the dogs or the officers.

Car Strikes Tree; Omaha Dies

Omaha Neb. (UPI)—Frank J. Beatty, 64, of Omaha, died Friday night in an apparent traffic accident.

Beatty's car hit a tree on the northside of Dodge Street near Institutes Road on the west edge of Omaha.

Authorities scheduled an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

New Revenue Measures Would Raise $10 Million

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Four key revenue bills which have either passed their first legislative floor test or been enacted into law would raise an additional $10 million during the next biennium.

Total anticipated new revenue approaches $12 million in which the present $4.4 million property levy is applied to an expected 3% hike in valuation during the next two years.

Applying the rate against the present assessed valuation of $3.4 billion the state may anticipate some $101 million in new valuation and addition of property tax revenue of perhaps $17 million for the biennium.

The $12 million figure compares with a proposed general fund increase of $11,705,000 recommended by Gov. Frank Morrison in his 1963-65 budget message.

However, the governor did not include in that total an additional $5.6 million which he recommended to enact a series of new programs, including a state retirement system, educational television, Keir Mills medical care legislation and a driver training program.

There is no way to estimate what sort of appropriations figure will be proposed by the Legislature's Budget Committee.

However, by way of comparison the committee recommended a 1961-63 budget of $1.4 billion in which the state may anticipate some $100,000 in new revenue through a boost in the tax on gross premiums of domestic insurance companies cleared general file on a 2016 count.

All By Carpenter

All 4 bills carry the name of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff as chief sponsor.

Only LB117 seems to lack definite assurance of enactment. The bill would require 22 votes to be passed.

Chief money raiser among other pending revenue bills is LB707 proposing a sales tax on meals and lodging a proposal which would raise an estimated $6.8 million during the biennium.

The kingpin revenue bill of the 1963 session, of course, is LB612, the state income tax proposal. But LB612 is designed to serve as a replacement tax and not as a source of additional revenue.

Nevertheless several senators who presently hold the deciding votes on the income tax bills have indicated that their decisions will rest in part on additional revenue raised by pending measures.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (UPI)—The Duvalier regime in Haiti declared martial law and imposed a curfew Friday.

The action bolstered reports that President Francois Duvalier plans swift reprisals against his opponents in the neighboring Negro republic.

Duvalier acted soon after the departure of an international American peace team which had rushed to this Caribbean island to head off an impending clash between the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Eased Threat

The mission's two day stay in Port Au Prince the Haitian capital eased the threat of war between the two but only temporarily took the heat off Duvalier's opponents.

Reports reaching Santo Domingo through the Duvalier censorship said informed circles in Haiti spoke of many more killings and reprisals than was commonly believed.

These reports coincided with others in Washington that Duvalier has mounted a reign of terror—including murder, torture, arson, widespread arrests and purges of military officers—in cracking down on his opponents.

No Reason

No reason was given for the imposition of martial law in Haiti in the broadcast announcement by a Port Au Prince radio station. It said only that the decree and an 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew would remain in effect until further notice.

However, underground Haitian oppositionists have vowed to overthrow the Duvalier government by May 15, and the American colony in Port Au Prince has been advised to restrict movements to essential business.

Reports from Port Au Prince said there were few signs of tensions on the surface but there was a strong undercurrent of unease.

Four key revenue bills which have either passed their first legislative floor test or been enacted into law would raise an additional $10 million during the next biennium.

Total anticipated new revenue approaches $12 million when the present $43 million property levy is applied to an expected 3% hike in valuation during the next two years.

There is no way to estimate what sort of appropriations figure will be proposed by the Legislature's Budget Committee.

However, by way of comparison, the committee recommended a 1961-63 budget some $2.5 million below that proposed by Morrison.

The 4 revenue bills:

—LB10, raising an additional $6.5 million through an increased excise tax on cigarettes, approved on general file by a 35-1 count.

—LB9, raising some $2,370,000 in new revenue through boosted excise taxes on beer and liquor, advanced from general file on a 29-1 vote.

—LB486, producing an additional $750,000 through a hike in the tax on pari-mutuel horse race betting, already enacted into law.

—LB117, yielding some $400,000 in new revenue through a boost in the tax on gross premiums of domestic insurance companies, cleared general file on a 20-16 count.

Hallam Bank Robbery In '22 Really Something

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. Fred Carsten, wife of the Hallam Bank president, was right in the midst of the hubbub created Friday by law officers, bank employees and newsmen in the wake of a $4,800 holdup-robbery.

"This is nothing compared to 1922," she said calmly. "Now THAT was quite a time."

The elderly woman brought out a well-preserved clipping of The Lincoln Star dated Oct. 21, 1922 to prove her point. And it did.

Forty-one years ago, the newspaper account relates, "yeggmen used nitroglycerin to blow the bank safe." In a rather sad (for the burglars) twist, the interior of the bank was ruined, bank records were turned into confetti, but the old safe simply tottered and fell on its face, making it impossible for the burglars to get into it.

They escaped, Mrs. Carsten recalls, but only with some change and some Liberty Bonds taken from safe deposit boxes. The boxes, but not the bonds, were recovered.

During the 1922 bank robbery, she recalls, the men (there were believed to have been 3 to 5 involved) cut telephone wires, held townsfolk at shotgun point, and used enough nitro to be heard in southern Lincoln — 20 miles distant.

"I remember we had just redone the inside of the old bank before the robbery," she related. The bank was then housed in a frame building, since torn down. "It was really a mess, and we spent days trying to paste all the pieces of deposit slips together."

Rain Here Totals

Third Of An Inch

A hard rain gave Lincoln about .34 inches of rain late Friday night. Starting about 11:50 p.m., the rain lasted some 45 minutes.

Most of the passengers were believed to be Brazilians.

The tanker, one wing damaged in the collision with the bomber during a refueling mission, made an emergency safe landing at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho at 9 p.m. None of its crew was injured.

There were 44 passengers and 5 crewmen aboard when the Convair went down.

Adding to the toll, a San Paulo fire department vehicle rushing to the scene rammed into a crowd at a crossing, killing 4 pedestrians, police reported.

Sao Paulo is the site of the current Pan-American Games, in which a large U.S. team is participating.

The teen-agers, most of them 13 to 16, kept moving together.

Together

Then the water hit them. Cowering first with hands over their heads, then on their knees or clinging together with their arms around each other, they tried to hold their ground.

Some of the Negroes, milling in the park opposite the church, began yelling threateningly at officers. Police Commissioner Eugene Connor ordered the dogs brought in.

"All you gotta do is tell them you're going to bring the dogs," said Connor.

With firemen brandishing their hoses, a policeman with a loudspeaker warned the marchers, "Disperse or you'll get wet."

'Bama Grabs Hikers'

Fort Payne, Ala. (UPI) — Ten "Freedom marchers," pelted by eggs in Georgia, were arrested Friday by Alabama highway patrolmen when the integrated group crossed the state line into Alabama.

Shortly before the marchers reached the state line, one was knocked to the ground by a white man and another was hit on the head with a rock. Neither was injured seriously and continued the march.

The hikers, 5 white men and 5 Negroes also had been pelted with eggs when they stopped for lunch on the road side, about a mile before reaching Alabama.

Alabama patrolmen bailed newsmen accompanying the marchers from crossing the state line. A dozen patrolmen with clubs extended before them halted the newsmen.

The freedom marchers were allowed to pass and were told they were under arrest.

Two of the marchers fell to the highway when told they were under arrest and refused to walk to a patrol car. Patrolmen carried them bodily to the car. Officers jailed the demonstrators in Fort Payne.

Hundreds followed the marchers along the last few miles of their route between Rising Fawn, Ga., and the Alabama line. The integrated group was carrying on a pilgrimage begun by Baltimore postman William Moore who was shot to death near Atalia, Ala. April 24.

Petersen Says: I'd Represent All Of Lincoln'

"I am surprised that the Lincoln Committee of COPE has endorsed my opponent since he has received the support and financial backing of the big money interests in Lincoln," Dean Petersen can didate for mayor said Friday.

Petersen said he did not actively seek the endorsement because "I have no desire to be closely tied to any organization in my campaign for mayor."

"If elected mayor I intend to represent all the people of Lincoln whether they be in organized labor, unorganized labor, a white collar job in management or a profession. I also intend to represent all people regardless of where they live in Lincoln and how much they earn," he said.

"I have talked to many labor union members of Lincoln who support my candidacy as individual citizens. I also understand that the endorsement of my opponent was not unanimous," Petersen said. This leads me to believe that the Lincoln Committee COPE endorsement was given to my opponent because he actively sought it."

Russian Espionage Still Danger

... U.S. CRIME ALSO INCREASING—HOOVER REPORTS

By RAYMOND L. CROWLEY

Washington (UPI) — On the threshold of his 40th year as FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said Friday that Russian espionage in the United States continues to be "a most potent danger."

He added that Soviet diplomats assigned to the United States and United Nations represent the backbone of Russian intelligence operations in this country."

Thirty nine years ago next Friday the then Atty. Gen. Harlan Fiske Stone tapped Hoover to head the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which had fallen into ill repute because of scandal and politicking.

Changes

Hoover, then 29, instituted sweeping changes and over the years the FBI became a symbol throughout America of modern, potent crime fighting techniques.

Now 68, Hoover set forth his views by giving written answers to written questions on the subject of Russian spying, he said.

"We know from our FBI investigations that the Soviet espionage system is a hard core, well-trained spy apparatus. We must not overlook, in this connection, the existence of other non-curtain intelligence systems, such as those of Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia."

These satellite systems are closely coordinated with Moscow, with the result that we in the FBI are facing a highly skilled, well-organized Soviet Bloc attack.

Paramount

Russian espionage is today a continuing paramount concern of the FBI."

As for crime in general, he said it has shown a marked increase and unless the trend is reversed it "foretells a tragic breakdown of law and order which will require drastic action to avoid chaos."

More than two million crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50 and over and automobile theft were committed in 1962, he said adding.

Upward

From 1950 through 1962 serious crimes in the United States surged upward by 114%."

Such crime he continued, increased 5 times faster than the nation's population in the 5 years preceding 1962.

Crime prevention he said should be approached on two fronts:

Asserting that the nation's policemen cannot fight crime alone, he appealed to the citizenry to report criminal acts they know about, and to stand ready to testify.

'Bama Grabs Hikers

Fort Payne, Ala. (AP) — Ten "Freedom marchers," pelted by eggs in Georgia, were arrested Friday by Alabama highway patrolmen when the integrated group crossed the state line into Alabama.

Shortly before the marchers reached the state line, one was knocked to the ground by a white man and another was hit on the head with a rock. Neither was injured seriously and continued the march.

The hikers, 5 white men and 5 Negroes, also had been pelted with eggs when they stopped for lunch on the roadside, about a mile before reaching Alabama.

Alabama patrolmen barred newsmen accompanying the marchers from crossing the state line. A dozen patrolmen with clubs extended before them, halted the newsmen.

The freedom marchers were allowed to pass and were told they were under arrest.

Two of the marchers fell to the highway when told they were under arrest and refused to walk to a patrol car. Patrolmen carried them bodily to the car. Officers jailed the demonstrators in Fort Payne.

Hundreds followed the marchers along the last few miles of their route between Rising Fawn, Ga., and the Alabama line. The integrated group was carrying on a pilgrimage begun by Baltimore postman William Moore, who was shot to death near At-talla, Ala., April 24.

Petersen Says:
'I'd Represent All Of Lincoln'

"I am surprised that the Lincoln Committee of COPE has endorsed my opponent since he has received the support and financial backing of the big money interests in Lincoln," Dean Petersen, candidate for mayor, said Friday.

Petersen said he did not actively seek the endorsement because "I have no desire to be closely tied to any organization in my campaign for mayor."

"If elected mayor, I intend to represent all the people of Lincoln whether they be in organized labor, unorganized labor, a white-collar job, in management or a profession. I also intend to represent all people regardless of where they live in Lincoln and how much they earn," he said.

"I have talked to many labor union members of Lincoln who support my candidacy as individual citizens. I also understand that the endorsement of my opponent was not unanimous," Petersen said. "This leads me to believe that the Lincoln Committee COPE endorsement was given to my opponent because he actively sought it."

Russian Espionage Still Danger

. . . U.S. CRIME ALSO INCREASING—HOOVER REPORTS

By RAYMOND L. CROWLEY

Washington (AP) — On the threshold of his 40th year as FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover said Friday that Russian espionage in the United States continues to be "a most potent danger."

He added that Soviet diplomats assigned to the United States and United Nations "represent the backbone of Russian intelligence operations in this country."

Thirty-nine years ago next Friday, the then Atty. Gen. Harlan Fiske Stone tapped Hoover to head the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which had fallen into ill repute because of scandal and politicking.

Changes

Hoover, then 29, instituted sweeping changes and over the years the FBI became a symbol throughout America of modern, potent crime-fighting techniques.

Now 68, Hoover set forth his views by giving written answers to written questions. On the subject of Russian spying, he said:

"We know from our FBI investigations that the Soviet espionage system is a hardcore, well-trained spy apparatus. We must not overlook, in this connection, the existence of other iron curtain intelligence systems, such as those of Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

"These satellite systems are closely coordinated with Moscow, with the result that we in the FBI are facing a highly skilled, well organized Soviet Bloc attack.

Paramount

"Russian espionage is today a continuing paramount concern of the FBI."

As for crime in general, he said it has shown a marked increase and unless the trend is reversed it "foretells a tragic breakdown of law and order which will require drastic action to avoid chaos."

More than two million crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of $50

and over, and automobile theft were committed in 1962, he said, adding:

Upward

"From 1950 through 1962, serious crimes in the United States surged upward by 114%."

Such crime, he continued, increased 5 times faster than the nation's population in the 5 years preceding 1962.

Crime prevention, he said, should be approached on two fronts:

1. More vigorous efforts to eliminate such shortcomings of society as poverty, slums and the problem of broken families.

Punishment

2. Swift, sure punishment fitted to the crime.

"We can never hope to prevent crime when some of our courts, parole and probation authorities are nothing more than revolving doors which time after time turn back hardened criminals to prey on the public," he said.

Too many people, he said, are apathetic or adopt a "Don't get involved" attitude.

American, Sherpa Scaled Mt. Everest

Katmandu, Nepal (AP)—From the rooftop of the world, word crackled down Friday that one American and a Sherpa guide made up the first U.S. team to conquer Mt. Everest. Fighting high winds and low temperature, they planted American and Nepalese flags on the summit and took a picture.

Bid Recommendations To Be Made Monday

Engineering recommendations on construction bids for two street projects and 3 paving districts are to be made Monday to the City Council.

Pioneer Paving Co. was apparent low bidder at $19,475.20 for grading, graveling and guard rails for Normal from 59th to 70th.

Mrs. Helen Rogers Dies; Was Widow Of Lincoln Doctor

Mrs. Helen Cook Rogers of 3015 Stratford Ave., widow of Dr. Floyd L. Rogers, a longtime Lincoln physician, died Friday.

Born in St. Paul, Mrs. Rogers attended high school, Washburn College at Topeka, Kan., and was a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Delta Omicron.

She was also a member of First Presbyterian Church, Century Club, Chapter DM of PEO, secretary of Dr. Floyd Rogers Diabetic Camp at Nebraska City.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Caroline Mills of Omaha and Mrs. Ann White of Lincoln, and 3 grandsons.

Opening of Normal Blvd. as the principal access route to Holmes Park (Antelope Creek Dam) will be a city project.

Pioneer was also low at $6,588.10 for the paving of Antelope Creek Road near the Eden Park Municipal Pool west to 44th.

This city project will open a dead-end street and provide better access to the swimming pool.

Apparent low bids on other projects:

—Pioneer, $25,393.80, for Paving District 1834 on 63rd from Aylesworth to Holdrege, Valley View Drive from Holdrege to Glendale from 82nd to Valley View Drive.

—Dobson Bros. Construction Co., $5,769.80, for Paving District 1833 for Lowell Ave. from 36th to 37th.

—Pioneer, $4,471.50, for Paving District 1835 for 64th from Francis to Lexington Ave.

—Dobson Bros., $13,840, for reconstruction of water mains in connection with the Interstate 35 access project between 9th and 10th, Q and S.

4 AVOID 'DEATH HOUSE'

San Quentin, Calif. (AP) — Two 3 murder plotters were 15 steps and 105 minutes away from death in the gas chamber Friday when they got word the executions of all 3 had been stayed by a U.S. Supreme Court justice.

"You're not kidding me are you, warden?" pleaded John Frank Vlahovich, 31, looking up from what he thought was his last breakfast. The hour was 8:15 a.m.

At 10 a.m., after a short death march, he and Donald C. Franklin, 34, were to be seated side by side, strapped to chairs in the gas chamber, waiting for fumes to snuff out their lives.

"Thank God," sighed Franklin when Associate Warden Dale Brady assured them of Justice William O. Douglas' order in Washington.

Six floors up, among the 40 other condemned men on death row, Joseph Rosoto, 39, heard minutes later he would not die at 2 p.m. He shook his head in disbelief. That hour was set because the two-chair gas chamber had to be aired out after a morning execution.

The 3 were convicted of a plot to have a gunman—still at large—kill an Anaheim tavern owner so he could not testify against Rosoto at a robbery trial.

Justice Douglas decided the executions should be stayed while the Supreme Court passes on two other cases with related issues, including collection of evidence with a hidden microphone.

Thursday there were 43 men on death row.

Four were to die Friday in morning and afternoon pairs, thus setting a new, grim record for the apple-green walled gas chamber.

But Thursday after Douglas twice rejected a stay, a federal judge stayed and then Gov. Edmund G. Brown commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Charles J. Golston, 21.

Friday, Golston a Los Angeles Negro rapist and slayer of a 79-year-old woman boarded a bus on his way to a processing medical center at Vacaville.

His life was spared because a psychiatric examination after his conviction pointed out abnormalities.

Of Trying To Influence Vote

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman denied Friday that he is trying to influence farmers to approve the new wheat program in a May 21 referendum. But he said it is important that Congress vote before then to extend the present feed grain program.

Testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee, Freeman said prompt enactment is necessary "if we are to give the wheat farmer all the available facts and information he is entitled to before he casts his vote."

The farmer, he said, has the right to know the full story of the flexibility possible on his farm under the combined program.

The present program, Freeman wants extended for two years offers payments and price supports to farmers who voluntarily divert some of their feed grain land to conservation uses. The wheat referendum, which would require approval of two-thirds of those voting to go into effect, would provide a two-price plan for wheat in 1964 patterned on tough lines to stem overproduction.

As for complaints that Freeman is wrongly trying to influence the wheat referendum in the administration's favor, he told the committee:

"I personally would never dream of trying to tell someone how to vote." Besides, he said, it would be illegal.

Freeman was asked by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, senior Republican on the committee, about a March 1 directive requiring that a member of a county or community farmer committee, which is elected to administer farm programs, take an oath "to support programs he is called on to administer." Aiken wanted to know if a member who opposed the feed grain and wheat proposals would be removed.

Speech Festival Honors To Wilber

Crete — Wilber High School walked off with sweepstakes honors at Doane College's first annual speech festival this week. Individual honors were divided between Wilber and University High School, Lincoln.

Mrs. Donna Mackey, speech coach at Wilber, received the sweepstakes trophy from Mrs. Alvina Krause, professor emeritus from Northwestern University. The award was made on the basis of overall student performance.

The contest was divided into two portions: poetry, won by Susie Sasiek, Wilber; and prose reading, won by Nan Burling, University High School.

NU Spring Day 1963 Came On Nice Day—For A Change

University of Nebraska Spring Day 1963 sprang warm and breezy Friday—for a change.

It was the first time in several years that sunshine blessed the Friday on which university classes were dismissed for a traditional afternoon of games.

Log throwing, ball stacking, women's roller skating, and men and women tugs of war didn't compete in interest or enthusiasm with the university Saturday morning.

Lebsack Stresses 'Airport Cooperation With Lincoln'

Edward W. Lebsack, candidate for the Airport Authority, said he would "emphasize cooperation with the City of Lincoln in the operation of airports."

"The authority should operate as a true governmental agency," he said in a prepared statement. "The present policy of 'wheeling and dealing' on the part of Airport Authority members has no part in government."

Lebsack also said he would, if elected, invite the full-time mayor to sit in on all meetings and keep the City Council and citizens informed on all authority activities.

Aviation Growth

"Ever since the Lincoln voters approved a $300,000 bond issue for expansion of the municipal airport, Lincolnites have played an important part in the growth of aviation."

Lebsack, who served with the Air Corps Engineers during World War II, said he has been interested in local

Crete — It's not just the sopranos who are hitting new highs alongside the concert pianos here this week.

The entire state's musical elite will stand higher on the scale following the first competition of its kind ever staged in Nebraska. Ninety-one entrants — all at or near professional level — were attracted to contest No. 1 of the Governor's Council for Nebraska's Cultural Resources.

25-27,000 Expected At Polls Tuesday

Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy estimated Friday that 25,000 to 27,000 Lincoln voters will go to the polls in next Tuesday's city general election.

The voters will elect the city's first full-time mayor, 4 city council members, two school board members and 3 members of the Airport Authority.

Also on the ballot will be a charter amendment that would permit the council to order ornamental lighting assessment districts within a half-mile of City Hall without petition.

There were 18,275 votes cast in the April primary election — setting a record high for a city primary without a special issue on the ballot.

Previous highs for a city general election were 19,650 in 1951 and 19,300 for 1953.

Two Years Given Man On Charge Of Grand Larceny

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin Friday sentenced Charles Sypler to two years in the Nebraska Penal Complex on a grand larceny charge filed in connection with a series of break-ins in Lincoln.

The 36-year-old ex-convict had pleaded guilty to the charge April 18.

Two other ex-convicts were sentenced in connection with the same series of break-ins, which has been described as the longest and most expensive in Lincoln's history.

Paul Casc, 38, was sentenced to 5 years for burglary, and William Rupe, 49, was given two years for receiving stolen property.

Death Of Woman Found Hanging Declared Suicide

The death Friday of Mrs. Betty Hartley, 57, of 2741 N. 65th, was declared suicide by Lancaster Deputy Sheriff Paul Nowakowski, acting coroner.

Mrs. Hartley, was found about 2:15 p.m. by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine L. Hartley. She was hanging from a cross beam in the basement, Nowakowski said.

He said there was no evidence of violence.

Mrs. Hartley had been in ill health for sometime her husband, Harry Hartley, told authorities.

Charge Brings Denial

Of Trying To Influence Vote

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman denied Friday that he is trying to influence farmers to approve the new wheat program in a May 21 referendum. But he said it is important that Congress vote before then to extend the present feed grain program.

Testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee, Freeman said prompt enactment is necessary "if we are to give the wheat farmer all the available facts and information he is entitled to before he casts his vote."

The farmer, he said, has the right to know the full story of the flexibility possible on his farm under the combined program.

The present program Freeman wants extended for two years offers payments and price supports to farmers who voluntarily divert some of their feed grain land to conservation uses. The wheat referendum, which would require approval of two-thirds of those voting to go into effect, would provide a two-prize plan for wheat in 1964 patterned on tough lines to stem overproduction.

As for complaints that Freeman is wrongly trying to influence the wheat referendum in the administration's favor, he told the committee:

"I personally would never dream of trying to tell someone how to vote." Besides, he said, it would be illegal.

Freeman was asked by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, senior Republican on the committee, about a March 1 directive requiring that a member of a county or community farmer committee, which is elected to administer farm programs, take an oath "to support programs he is called on to administer." Aiken wanted to know if a member who opposed the feed grain and wheat proposals would be removed.

Speech Festival Honors To Wilber

Crete — Wilber High School walked off with sweepstakes honors at Doane College's first annual speech festival this week. Individual honors were divided between Wilber and University High School, Lincoln.

Mrs. Donna Mackey, speech coach at Wilber, received the sweepstakes trophy from Mrs. Alvina Krause, professor emeritus from Northwestern University. The award was made on the basis of overall student performance.

The contest was divided into two portions: poetry, won by Susie Sasek, Wilber; and prose reading, won by Nan Burling, University High School.

Governor's Council Contest Reveals Nebraska Musical Culture Plentiful

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete — It's not just the sopranos who are hitting new highs alongside the concert pianos here this week.

The entire state's musical elite will stand higher on the scale following the first competition of its kind ever staged in Nebraska. Ninety-one entrants — all at or near professional level — were attracted to contest No. 1 of the Governor's Council for Nebraska's Cultural Resources.

Concertos, sonatas, fugues and the most difficult of arias — such as the highly classical solos in the two age (over and under 18) division. Both instrumentalists and vocalists are participating for the 5 cash awards totaling $1,100.

"The quality points up so well the purpose of the governor's committee — to bring an awareness that Nebraska does have a real cultural potential," continued Dr. Whear.

"We need to remind ourselves periodically that all the culture isn't in New York and the other states."

Sometimes forgotten here, the professor continued, is that Nebraska has attained national music recognition through such men as famed composer Howard Hanson of Wahoo. The two judges of the Doane competition are also native Nebraskans prominent in the field.

Dr. Burrill Phillips of the University of Illinois and Dr. Anthony Donato of Northwestern University are evaluating the participants. Both are professors of theory and composition who have lectured abroad throughout Fulbright grants.

Climax of the 3-day contest will be the presentation of awards at a Saturday luncheon attended by Gov. Frank Morrison. Mrs. Morrison has served as entry committee chairman.

Mrs. Hartley, was found about 2:15 p.m. by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine L. Hartley. She was hanging from a cross beam in the basement, Nowakowski said.

He said there was no evidence of violence.

Mrs. Hartley had been in ill health for sometime her husband, Harry Hartley, told authorities.

Dr. Walter E. Miltzner of Lincoln is Council chairman, Herbert Burton of Lincoln heading up the music event itself. Lincolnenites Mrs. G. A. Roberts and Mrs. Carl Rohman comprised the finance committee.

NU Spring Day 1963 Came On Nice Day—For A Change

University of Nebraska Spring Day 1963 sprang warm and breezy Friday — for a change.

It was the first time in several years that sunshine blessed the Friday on which university classes were dismissed for a traditional afternoon of games.

Log throwing, bale stacking, women's roller skating, and men and women tugs of war didn't compete in interest or enthusiasm with the push ball event. Long after the official games ended at 4 p.m., students still collected around the giant ball in spirited competition.

New records may have been reached in the women's distance throw, due to the brisk wind behind the tiny puffs of cotton. The mystery event at 2 p.m. remains a mystery, but the winner will be announced during Ivy Day ceremonies at the university Saturday morning.

Lebsack Stresses 'Airport Cooperation With Lincoln'

Edward W. Lebsack, candidate for the Airport Authority, said he would "emphasize cooperation with the City of Lincoln in the operation of airports."

"The authority should operate as a true governmental agency," he said in a prepared statement. "The present policy of 'wheeling and dealing' on the part of Airport Authority members has no part in government."

Lebsack also said he would, if elected, invite the full-time mayor to sit in on all meetings and keep the City Council and citizens informed on all authority activities.

Whiteley Accepts State Wheat Post

Gary L. Whiteley, vocational agriculture teacher at Lexington High School, has been appointed chief of the Nebraska Wheat Commission as of June 1, according to William Lindken, commission chairman.

Whiteley, 26, is a native of Nelson, Neb., where he graduated from high school and farmed for 5 years. He also holds the Bachelor of Science Degree in agriculture from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Lebsack, who served with the Air Corps Engineers during World War II, said he has been interested in local

25-27,000 Expected At Polls Tuesday

Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy estimated Friday that 25,000 to 27,000 Lincoln voters will go to the polls in next Tuesday's city general election.

The voters will elect the city's first full-time mayor, 4 city council members, two school board members and 3 members of the Airport Authority.

Also on the ballot will be a charter amendment that would permit the council to order ornamental lighting assessment districts within a half-mile of City Hall without petition.

There were 18,275 votes cast in the April primary election — setting a record high for a city primary without a special issue on the ballot.

Previous highs for a city general election were 19,656 in 1951 and 19,390 for 1953.

Two Years Given Man On Charge Of Grand Larceny

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin Friday sentenced Charles Sypher to two years in the Nebraska Penal Complex on a grand larceny charge filed in connection with a series of break-ins in Lincoln.

The 36-year-old ex-convict had pleaded guilty to the charge April 18.

Two other ex-convicts were sentenced in connection with the same series of break-ins, which has been described as the longest and most expensive in Lincoln's history.

Paul Case, 38, was sentenced to 5 years for burglary, and William Rupe, 49, was given two years for receiving stolen property.

Death Of Woman Found Hanging Declared Suicide

The death Friday of Mrs. Betty Hartley, 57, of 2741 No. 65th, was declared suicide by Lancaster Deputy Sheriff Paul Nowakowski, acting coroner.

Mrs. Hartley, was found about 2:15 p.m. by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine L. Hartley. She was hanging from a cross beam in the basement, Nowakowski said.

He said there was no evidence of violence.

Mrs. Hartley had been in ill health for sometime her husband, Harry Hartley, told authorities.

Politics On The Move

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There has hardly been an end lately to political happenings or things that cause political speculation. Latest development is the move in residence for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon from California to New York to take up practice with an east coast law firm. Immediately, the question was raised as to the political significance of the act.

Following his defeat last year in California by Gov. Pat Brown, Nixon said he was through with the political wars but few people actually believed him. All the average politician needs to get him back in the war is a reasonable expectation of victory and this is quite easy to come by. It is doubtful that they ever lose the yen for public office. But it is not quite clear just how the move to New York would help Nixon.

One thing which makes politics very uncertain in the West is the presence of strong right wing elements of the Republican party. Actually, this right wing should be a party of its own as it doesn't represent the GOP in true fashion but it doesn't represent an area of operation and it is closer to the GOP than to the Democrats.

That the right wing is a worrisome thing in the West was attested to by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California when he took the floor of the Senate to denounce "self-styled patriotic groups" who he said are terrifying thousands of Americans with "undeterred venom," hoaxes and lies. Coming as it did from a leading Republican, the warning was all the more significant.

The American people are at times inclined to be gullible and at other times are inclined toward apathy. When one group goes one way and another the other way, the combination can be most dangerous. When large numbers of people swallow a long tale of falsehoods and large numbers of people pay no attention to the matter, anything could happen. And this is what is happening in regard to the right wing movement in this country. Those who believe in it, even at its extreme, are militantly pursuing their course of hate, slander and fear. They pick up just enough fact or truth to give credibility to their position and then proceed to twist it to their own advantage. They can do prosper when the rest of the people fail to pay any attention to them, fail to act in a constructive and intelligent way to counteract the deceit and propaganda that these right wing groups live on. The first and most important thing for the American people to do in the face of such movements as Senator Kuchel spoke of is to be well informed themselves and to give careful thought to their own positions. The ultimate purpose of these movements is not clear but their success could end only with complete destruction of the free kind of government and society that we now enjoy.

What they generally preach is so ridiculous that to believe it, one would have to question the loyalty and convictions of hundreds and perhaps thousands of men who are now providing leadership for this nation. The issue is not a partisan one in any way. As Senator Kuchel pointed out, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are centers of attack for these movements.

The far right wing would do away with practically every part of our foreign relations and defense programs as they are known today. In the place of freedom, they would substitute rule by a selected few because they believe that they alone have the answers to the problems we face today.

Those who are inclined to follow this extreme political path might consider that if it is correct, then all that this nation stands for is in error.

Solution Of No Value

It would be a little like hoarding your money in the conviction that the government were going bankrupt. If your fears are well founded in this case, they automatically make your intended solution of no value whatsoever.

If Nixon has any desire to leave the area of right wing strength, it is encouraging as it would indicate his lack of faith in its possible success as well as the need to fight it. And if the former vice president still has any political ambitions, this could be most important as he may yet prove to be the best voter-getter the GOP could advance in 1964.

A Big Day Tuesday

Not in a long time have the voters of Lincoln faced tougher decisions than they will face this coming Tuesday, general election day. They will be selecting people to fill posts on the Airport Authority, the Board of Education, mayor and City Council. The decisions to be made will be tough because the slate of candidates is unusually even.

In only one race, it seems, is there a distinction that can clearly be made. In the contest for mayor, Fred Herrington offers the people a great deal more experience and understanding of government than does his opponent. The two may well be on a par in matters of integrity and good intentions for city government but this is not the essence of the choice.

The question is not what one man might lack but which one offers the greater promise of intelligent leadership, firm and efficient administration and imaginative pursuit of answers to municipal problems. It is simply to Herrington's credit, not the discredit of anyone else, that he offers such promise.

A fair and honest analysis of the other races makes the choice in them a difficult one, at least among those believed

Italy's Elections

Italy's pro-Western Prime Minister Fanfani emerged from the recent elections with his Christian Democrat party experiencing the paradox of polling its largest popular vote, winning more seats (260) in parliament than any other party, but emerging weaker than formerly.

The problem is that Fanfani has only 40 per cent of the deputies behind him and the communists, picking up 26 additional seats, compose an influential minority. They can demand stiff terms in giving him his majority or force him to seek refuge in the party of the far right. The latter is hostile to his liberal program and would restrain it to a point possibly of his vision as a compromise leader.

Fanfani's tenuous position is being closely watched in western capitals, sensing Italy's position in the Common Market, NATO and the Western Alliance may be at

Day's P.O. Economy Backfires On Him

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is out of town. In his absence the column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General J. Edward Day is known as the wittiest and most eloquent member of President Kennedy's cabinet.

But when the postmaster general went before the Senate Appropriations committee to appeal for reinstatement of $92 million the House had slashed from his budget, he must have had a hard time laughing at Chairman Robert-

In presenting his budget, Day had already figured on an efficiency gain of 1.24 percent, which represents a savings of 7,000 mailmen, but despite the fact that both the committee and the Post Office agree there will be more mail, the committee decided Day could get by with even fewer people.

The normally dour solon from Virginia is just as budget conscious as his colleague Sen. Harry Byrd, but he seemed to think it was funny that the House had slashed the P.O.'s budget $92 million dollars without giving Day a hint about where he could save the money.

Though known for his wit, Day is also the biggest businessman in the Kennedy administration, having served as executive vice president of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, the world's third largest corporation.

In charge of the government's biggest business, he has streamlined it with a vengeance, delivered more mail at proportionately less cost than ever before in history.

In reporting on the Post Office budget, the House committee, which is headed by another Virginian, Rep. J. Vaughan Gary of Richmond, agreed with Day that there would be 2.4 billion more pieces of mail to deliver next year (this is more mail than is handled in Belgium in a whole year), and commended the department for its efficiency. But simultaneously he cut the budget so badly that it will be necessary for the Post Office to hire 8,000 fewer people in the fiscal year 1964 than it will have at the end of 1963.

Limitations Of Office Slow JFK

WASHINGTON — A number of developments this year suggest that President Kennedy's view of the presidency is undergoing radical change under the pressures of that difficult office.

If there was one bedrock conviction that John F. Kennedy brought to his 1960 drive, it was his advocacy of a strong presidency

In recent months, by deed and word, the President has revealed an historic retreat in his personal thinking on the powers and reach of the White House. On several occasions he has publicly dwelt on the limits of the presidency, as did Presidents Eisenhower and Hoover, rather than on the opportunities and reserve authority of the office such as stirred Presidents Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt, Wilson and Truman.

Certainly the Kennedy legislative program this year is as modest as the President's developing view of his office. The effort being made in Congress in behalf of even that half load is likewise circumspect.

Where strong presidents of the past have gone to the country to challenge public and congressional apathy, this one seems content to carry on his increasingly discordant dialogue with the press.

At the political level, the activist politician of 1957-60 who became the positive president of 1961 has twice recently subscribed to the fatalistic ebb-and-flow theory of his office. He seems ready to wait for a change in the adverse times that have been running while husbanding his personal popularity.

This is the more unexpected from a president who is as much historian as politician. Kennedy knows from his own wide reading that the great occupants of his office have added significantly to its dimensions.

ON TARGET

The income tax issue is headed for a tense climax.

What the 25-10 vote not to kill this week meant more than anything else was that lawmakers are not yet ready to render a final judgment on the key tax proposal of 1963.

Opponents of the income levy can feel a whole lot safer about holding on to their 18 votes than proponents can feel about the 25.

In its simplest terms, the issue now boils down to whether opponents can gather 4 more votes.

How many senators are firmly pledged to support the income tax bill, as it is now amended, is a matter of conjecture. Most often mentioned is a figure of 18 or 19.

It would appear that the decision ultimately will rest with LeRoy Bahensky, Hal Bridenbaugh, Cecil Craft, Frank Nelson, Harold Stryker and perhaps one or two other uncommitted senators.

Next week (and more to follow) will be "Be Kind to Bahensky-Bridenbaugh-Craft-Nelson-Stryker Week" at the Legislature.

They're not likely to be buying the 10 a.m. round of coffee (delivered to the senators' seals) for some time.

Appearing before the Legislature's Budget Committee probably is not the biggest day in the life of a state official.

It isn't really something you look forward to, or anticipate with great joy. Unless, of course, you enjoy sky-diving with an old paraglide or picking on Big Bob Brown.

It's kind of like drawing the shortest straw in a game of Russian roulette—played with 7 men and one woman.

Yep, it's a tough go. But this is not to suggest that it should be otherwise. We have yet to find anyone—senator, state official or taxpayer—who believes that the budget unit should not dig out the facts.

Anyway, to get a feel of it, we sat in on part of the University of Nebraska's budget hearing and took notes—on questions only.

Bridenbaugh: Should every professor carry on research? How do you define research? Are you wasting money and time on research?

Refugee Problem

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to The Star editorial, "A Smoldering Volcano," in which the Washington Post was quoted as saying that "in a sense, the Palestinian refugees of Jordan are the Cuban exiles of the Middle East," if this statement is true, the American government stands accused of inhumanity to the Cuban refugees, a policy of purposeful demoralization and promoting disquiet and disillusion among the Cuban exiles in Florida.

It is a well known fact documented in many reports of the United Nations and other objective observers that the Arab governments have maintained the Palestinian refugees in camps near the Israeli border and have refused to implement any and all plans for their resettlement and integration in the sparsely settled Arab countries.

The purpose of these governments has been to maintain an unquiet and easily incitable group along the Israeli border. Despite the fact that the Cuban refugees are culturally different from the American populace generally, the American government has made great efforts to resettle these people productively.

Contrast this with the Arab countries' refusal for the past 15 years to integrate their own brethren with in societies in which they would not be strange.

Also, Grandpa should be told to see if the kids can find out how come some of those guys who were against the feed grain bill because they said it wouldn't work are now against it because it has worked so good that we now have a shortage.

While they are at it, the kids might as well figure out what bread would cost if we gave the wheat free to the millers. Grandpa should be asked if that is what they mean by free enterprise.

The Osteopaths

Lincoln, Neb.

Your editorial of April 25 commenting on the revival of LB665 by the Legislature to permit the osteopaths to practice medicine and surgery in addition to their basic profession was excellent.

I have had all my medical and surgical needs taken care of for the past 35 years by the osteopathic profession in other states. I have had five successful operations performed in osteopathic hospitals and better results could not have been obtained anywhere.

As you stated in your editorial, the osteopathic schools have as thorough training and as high standards as any medical school.

If they do not, then the legislatures of the 39 other states where the osteopaths are allowed full practice of their profession in which they are trained must be less intelligent and have lower standards than does the Legislature of Nebraska. Is that true?

Cannot the MD's compete with the osteopaths on a professional level without political connivance? Also, the osteopaths should be allowed to practice in the same hospitals as the MD's. Hospitals are supposed to be public institutions, not private.

W. EVERETT COE

Lincoln, Neb.

My thanks to you for your fair and objective editorial on LB665 and the osteopathic profession. Your approach to the bill was without prejudice and pulled no punches.

As you noted, the osteopathic physician who would practice full medicine in this state under the terms of LB665 would have to pass state examinations, as would the school from which he was graduated. These are the same protections of state law now used in admitting medical doctors.

The osteopaths ask no special favors, no state tax funds, no private funds. All we ask is to have enacted a bill that is fair and just for those who qualify under its well-defined qualifications and requirements.

I hope Nebraska will become the 40th state with such a law which offers the promise of more, not fewer, doctors to serve the people who make up this great state.

Politics On The Move

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There has hardly been an end lately to political happenings or things that cause political speculation. Latest development is the move in residence for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon from California to New York to take up practice with an east coast law firm. Immediately, the question was raised as to the political significance of the act.

Following his defeat last year in California by Gov. Pat Brown, Nixon said he was through with the political wars but few people actually believed him. All the average politician needs to get him back in the war is a reasonable expectation of victory and this is quite easy to come by. It is doubtful that they ever lose the yen for public office. But it is not quite clear just how the move to New York would help Nixon.

One thing which makes politics very uncertain in the West is the presence of strong right wing elements of the Republican party. Actually, this right wing should be a party of its own as it doesn't represent the GOP in true fashion but it needs an area of operation and it is closer to the GOP than to the Democrats.

That the right wing is a worrisome thing in the West was attested to by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California when he took the floor of the Senate to denounce "self-styled patriotic groups" who he said are terrifying thousands of Americans with "unadulterated venom," hoaxes and lies. Coming as it did from a leading Republican, the warning was all the more significant.

The American people are at times inclined to be gullible and at other times are inclined toward apathy. When one group goes one way and another the other way, the combination can be most dangerous. When large numbers of people swallow a long tale of falsehoods and large numbers of people pay no attention to the matter, anything could happen. And this is what is happening in regard to the right wing movement in this country. Those who believe in it, even at its extreme, are militantly pursuing their course of hate, slander and fear. They pick up just enough fact or truth to give credibility to their position and then proceed to twist it to their own advantage. They can and do prosper when the rest of the people fail to pay any attention to them, fail to act in a constructive and intelligent way to counteract the deceit and propaganda that these right wing groups live on. The first and most important thing for the American people to do in the face of such movements as Senator Kuchel spoke of is to be well informed themselves and to give careful thought to their own positions. The ultimate purpose of these movements is not clear but their success could end only with complete destruction of the free kind of government and society that we now enjoy.

What they generally preach is so ridiculous that to believe it, one would have to question the loyalty and convictions of hundreds and perhaps thousands of men who are now providing leadership for this nation. The issue is not a partisan one in any way. As Senator Kuchel pointed out, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are centers of attack for these movements.

The far right wing would do away with practically every part of our foreign relations and defense programs as they are known today. In the place of freedom, they would substitute rule by a selected few because they believe that they alone have the answers to the problems we face today.

Those who are inclined to follow this extreme political path might consider that if it is correct, then all that this nation stands for is in error. It would be a little like hoarding your money in the conviction that the government were going bankrupt. If your fears are well founded in this case, they automatically make your intended solution of no value whatsoever.

If Nixon has any desire to leave the area of right wing strength, it is encouraging as it would indicate his lack of faith in its possible success as well as the need to fight it. And if the former vice president still has any political ambitions, this could be most important as he may yet prove to be the best voter-getter the GOP could advance in 1964.

A Big Day Tuesday

Not in a long time have the voters of Lincoln faced tougher decisions than they will face this coming Tuesday, general election day. They will be selecting people to fill posts on the Airport Authority, the Board of Education, mayor and City Council. The decisions to be made will be tough because the slate of candidates is unusually even.

In only one race, it seems, is there a distinction that can clearly be made. In the contest for mayor, Fred Herrington offers the people a great deal more experience and understanding of government than does his opponent. The two may well be on a par in matters of integrity and good intentions for city government but this is not the essence of the choice.

The question is not what one man might lack but which one offers the greater promise of intelligent leadership, firm and efficient administration and imaginative pursuit of answers to municipal problems. It is simply to Herrington's credit, not the discredit of anyone else, that he offers such promise.

A fair and honest analysis of the other races makes the choice in them a difficult one, at least among those believed

Italy's Elections

Italy's pro-Western Prime Minister Fanfani emerged from the recent elections with his Christian Democrat party experiencing the paradox of polling its largest popular vote, winning more seats (260) in parliament than any other party, but emerging weaker than formerly.

The problem is that Fanfani has only 40 per cent of the deputies behind him and the communists, picking up 26 additional seats, compose an influential minority. They can demand stiff terms in giving him his majority or force him to seek refuge in the party of the far right. The latter is hostile to his liberal program and would restrain it to a point possibly of his eviction as a compromise leader.

Fanfani's tenuous position is being closely watched in western capitals, sensing Italy's position in the Common Market, NATO and the Western Alliance may be at stake. That is a worrisome prospect, to be sure, but, as yet, there is not enough solidarity to it. Italy is and has been the European nation with the highest proportion of communists. They have been under test time after time since 1945. Yet Italy has made an outstanding record as a stalwart member of the Western family, a willing cooperator in NATO and a prize winner in its own rehabilitation.

Fanfani's recent compromise with the Reds resulted in acceptable liberal reforms without surrender. Under those reforms Italy has reached a new peak of prosperity and enhanced its influence abroad.

The communist minority may achieve a political coup to the embarrassment of the Fanfani government, but in a test of national strength it is still far from a position of decisive power. The situation calls for faith. Italy's record supports that.

Editorial Of The Day

Wilderness

From The Baltimore Sun

The American frontier has vanished within the lifetime of people still living. The date usually given is 1890, when the director of the census announced to an uninterested nation that the prevalence of settlement in the West meant that for all intents and purposes the frontier was no more. Homesteading went on at a great rate, however, in the two decades after this announcement, and the frame of mind induced by the tradition of vast space awaiting westward movement is still with us; we make pigsties of our cities and move outward to the suburbs as our great-grandparents wore out the soil and took up another section.

The same habit of mind is also evident in the opposition to taking up land for parks. Land is to be used, and when it has been used there is plenty more, and plenty of time to get around to buying it for public use. We have seen this thinking operate on proposals to set aside park land in our crowded East. It is easy to see how much stronger it must be on what was not so long ago the frontier.

This helps explain the obstacles before the wilderness bill, now through the Senate but facing continued opposition in the House. Farmers, miners, lumber companies recoil in horror from the idea of "locking up" unexploited land for coming generations. Yet if it is not safeguarded now our children may never see an uncut forest, an unquarried mountain, an unpolluted stream, an area whose ecology is undisturbed by man. The 37 primitive areas covered by the present bill include much of that once bottomless reservoir of public lands on which we have for so long drawn.

They are all that is left of the real frontier.

Day's P.O. Economy Backfires On Him

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is out of town. In his absence the column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General J. Edward Day is known as the wittiest and most eloquent member of President Kennedy's cabinet.

But when the postmaster general went before the Senate Appropriations committee to appeal for reinstatement of $92 million the House had slashed from his budget, he must have had a hard time laughing at Chairman Robertson's joke.

In presenting his budget, Day had already figured on an efficiency gain of 1.24 percent, which represents a savings of 7,000 man years, but despite the fact that both the committee and the Post Office agrees there will be more mail, the committee decided Day could get by with even fewer people.

Latin Americans read the newspapers. They know the score. And when North Americans in high position throw their weight behind dictators who have been guilty of murder, kidnapping, and torture, merely because they get free trips or financial benefits, it destroys confidence in American democracy. It also feeds the fires of agitators on the other side.

This, together with the wide chasm between the rich and the poor in Latin America, is what has made Latin America the most dangerous area for revolution in the world today.

WASHINGTON — A number of developments this year suggest that President Kennedy's view of the presidency is undergoing radical change under the pressures of that difficult office.

If there was one bedrock conviction that John F. Kennedy brought to his 1960 drive, it was his advocacy of a strong presidency.

On several occasions he has publicly dwelt on the limits of the presidency, as did Presidents Eisenhower and Hoover, rather than on the opportunities and reserve authority of the office such as stirred Presidents Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt, Wilson and Truman.

The sharpest insight into the private Kennedy musings on this subject came in his explanations for refusing to cut off federal aid to Mississippi despite that state's massive resistance to federal law. Perhaps a political retreat was advisable, but the administration stands firmly on the ground that those most in need of federal assistance would have been the ones hardest hit by the civil rights commission proposal.

This helps explain the obstacles before the wilderness bill, now through the Senate but facing continued opposition in the House. Farmers, miners, lumber companies recoil in horror from the idea of "locking up" unexploited land for coming generations. Yet if it is not safeguarded now our children may never see an uncut forest, an unquarried mountain, an unpolluted stream, an area whose ecology is undisturbed by man.

Scientific Aids Can Make Life Easier For Elders

A. It's not coddling one's self to take advantage of scientific advancements. We don't hesitate buying home permanents, automatic washers, dryers, and vacuum cleaners to make life easier. Why hesitate using scientific aids which make our bodies more efficient? Eyeglasses, dentures, and hearing aids are almost inevitable needs in very advanced years, and read and watch television."

A. Best way to get a man to use a workbench is to think of specific things you need around the house. Get him to make another clock shelf for another room, and then tell him you need a new cedar chest, clothes hamper, footstool and coffee table. Get your relatives to hound him to make things for them. Show your appreciation for his handiwork. Specific needs stimulate incentive.

Q. "I'm 70, retiring next year, and our only son, 26, will take over the jewelry manufacturing firm I founded years ago. My wife says I should sign the business over to the boy and let him have it lock, stock and bracelets as he is our only heir. But it seems to me that if he gets it this easily he won't appreciate it as much as if I make him work for it. What do you think?"

A. I agree. Why not tell him you'll split the profits with him for the first 5 years. Then, if he makes a success of it, you'll sign the firm over to him. It's very true that handing heirs a successful business on a silver platter often causes them to take less interest in the firm and its success than if they have had to learn it from the ground up and expend a little blood, sweat, and tears in figuring out how free enterprise and the profit system work.

Q. "We love to travel and are seriously thinking of taking half the $5,000 in our savings account and buying a travel trailer to pull behind our car, which will permit us to travel and yet fix our own meals and sleep in our own beds. How much does travel of this kind ordinarily cost?"

A. Most couples who go on auto trips with travel trailers in tow find they can get by readily on $10 a day, which includes their gas, oil, groceries and fees for parking trailers over night.

If you would like a booklet "Trailer Life in Retirement" write to this column, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents to cover handling costs.

it makes sense to start using them as the need arises.

Q. "I take particular pride in the fact that I'm 70 and still don't wear glasses or dentures. Actually, my sight is poor and my teeth are bad. But I once heard you shouldn't coddle yourself by wearing artificial aids until you absolutely had to have them. What do you think?"

A. It's not coddling one's self to take advantage of scientific advancements. We don't hesitate buying home permanents, automatic washers, dryers, and vacuum cleaners to make life easier. Why hesitate using scientific aids which make our bodies more efficient? Eyeglasses, dentures, and hearing aids are almost inevitable needs in very advanced years, and

A. Best way to get a man to use a workbench is to think of specific things you need around the house. Get him to make another clock shelf for another room, and then tell him you need a new cedar chest, clothes hamper, footstool and coffee table. Get your relatives to hound him to make things for them. Show your appreciation for his handiwork. Specific needs stimulate incentive.

Q. "I'm 70, retiring next year, and our only son, 26, will take over the jewelry manufacturing firm I founded years ago. My wife says I should sign the business over to the boy and let him have it lock, stock and bracelets as he is our only heir. But it seems to me that if he gets it this easily

A. I agree. Why not tell him you'll split the profits with him for the first 5 years. Then, if he makes a success of it, you'll sign the firm over to him. It's very true that handing heirs a successful business on a silver platter often causes them to take less interest in the firm and its success than if they have had to learn it from the ground up and expend a little blood, sweat, and tears in figuring out how free enterprise and the profit system work.

Q. "We love to travel and are seriously thinking of taking half the $5,000 in our savings account and buying a travel trailer to pull behind our car, which will permit us to travel and yet fix our own meals and sleep in our own beds. How much does travel of this kind ordinarily cost?"

A. Most couples who go on auto trips with travel trailers in tow find they can get by readily on $10 a day, which includes their gas, oil, groceries and fees for parking trailers over night.

Hallam Bank Loses $4,800 To Robbers

Employee Trussed, Gagged

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Hallam—Hallam Bank was the $4,800 loser early Friday in a swift strike by 3 robbers who gained entrance to the bank and lay in wait for the first employee to appear.

Reed Carsten, 50, nephew of bank president Fred Carsten, was the victim of two of the gunmen, one of whom held him at gunpoint and then tied his arms and legs with wire and taped his mouth and eyes.

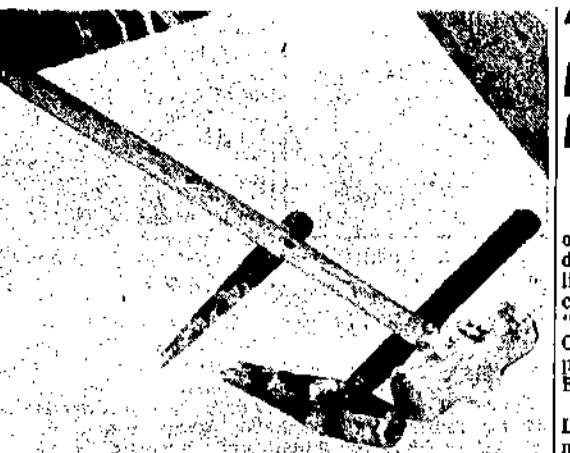

The younger Carsten said that he entered the bank at about 7:30 a.m., and opened the vault door and the safe before the robbers appeared—apparently from a back room of the bank.

Thought It Joke

"I thought it was a joke," he said, explaining that the first gunman was wearing a red bandana which entirely covered his face except for slits cut as eye holes. "I thought someone was playing a joke until I saw the second man."

Still thinking that the robbery was a hoax, Carsten related, he told the older gunman that "We are short on cash today. Why don't you just skip the whole thing?"

Carsten related that once gunned, short and in his shorts, did all the talking, threatening

TOOLS . . . hidden in bank but not used.

ing that "I can use this gun if I have to," as he ordered Carsten to pull down the window shade and lock the front door of the bank which Carsten had just opened.

Wore Gloves

Carsten said both the men inside the bank wore gloves, coveralls and caps like those worn by railroad engineers.

After the men had bound Carsten, one of them dragged him into the opened vault and attempted to lock the vault door. "He turned the handle first," Carsten related, and therefore the vault door would not close and lock. "I sure was lucky about that."

After the men left the bank Carsten managed to crawl to the phone, but found he could not handle it with his hands tied. He then heard a delivery truck drive up to the front of the bank, and crawled over to the front door and kicked at it until he attracted the driver's attention.

President Fred Carsten, 82, said the cash loss totaled $4,800. In addition, the men took a quantity of travelers' checks, he said.

Money Insured

The elder Carsten also commented, "We do not plan to fold up because of this incident," adding that the bank's money was insured.

Law enforcement officials from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, State Patrol and Lancaster County sheriff's office investigated the bank holdup and joined in spreading a dragnet around the vicinity in an attempt to snare the 3 suspects, who were believed to be driving a 1961 tan 4-door Buick with Gage County (3 prefix) license plates.

Thomas J. Gearly, chief of the Omaha FBI office, reported that a basement window at the back of the bank was ruled out as a possible method of entrance because cobwebs on the inside had not been disturbed.

Tools Found

During a search, officers found a sledgehammer, a short-handled pick-axe, and a chisel hidden near the furnace in the bank basement. The tools were not used. The vault and the safe had been opened by the younger Carsten before the holdup men appeared.

Neither the front nor rear door of the single-story brick bank building had been forced for entry, Gearly said. He would not speculate on how the two robbers gained entrance before the bank employee arrived.

During the Friday morning hours, the suspects' car was reported spotted by several persons in the Denton, Crete and Pleasant Dale areas, and grey overalls and other clothing believed to have belonged to the pair was found along U.S. 77 near the State 41 intersection.

Descriptions of the trio were vague, since two of them were heavily clad and masked. Patrol broadcasts identified the men as aged about 30, 35 and 55.

No Proof

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Hickenlooper offered nothing to prove that Freeman had ever instructed subordinates to vote "yes" in the referendum.

Sen. J. Howard Edmondson, D-Okl., said Hickenlooper failed to prove the "coercion" charge.

The referendum has stirred a heated controversy in the wheat belt with the American Farm Bureau charging that if it carries farmers will lose a portion of their freedom. The Agricultural Department says controls are needed to avoid overproduction and a sharp drop in prices.

Questioned

Hickenlooper questioned Freeman about charges that a department employee in Hallam—First indication of the bank robbery here Friday came when a bread delivery man rushed into a grocery store about 7:40 a.m. "and told me to call Mr. Fred Carsten; something had happened in the bank," grocer Everett Suiter reported.

Suiter said he and Dick Lampo of Beatrice, the bread man, "tried to call Mr. Carsten but got no answer, so we ran up to his home and Mrs. Carsten gave us a key. Then we returned to the bank and opened the door."

Suiter said they "found Reed bound and taped on the floor. They had tied his wrists behind his back with bailing wire and also his ankles were bound with the wire." He said adhesive tape covered Reed's mouth and eyes.

Freeman Denies He Has Coerced Subordinates

Washington (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman Friday flatly denied Republican charges that he is "coercing" subordinates to influence the result of a May 21 wheat referendum.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, kept Freeman under questioning for 4 hours, charging him with illegally influencing local agricultural stabilization committee members to campaign for a "yes" vote from farmers.

Unruffled but slightly flushed, Freeman said he had done nothing more than instruct subordinates to give wheat farmers the facts about the referendum on adoption of controls for the 1964 crop.

'Not Exhort'

"My instructions are . . . to present information . . . not to be advocates . . . not to exhort," Freeman said.

Hickenlooper and Freeman faced each other directly across a table in a meeting of the Senate Agriculture Committee which was called to urge speedy action on a related issue—a pending feed grain surplus-control bill.

The referendum has stirred a heated controversy in the wheat belt with the American Farm Bureau charging that if it carries farmers will lose a portion of their freedom. The Agricultural Department says controls are needed to avoid overproduction and a sharp drop in prices.

TFX Inquiry Focuses on Prototypes

Saturday, May 4, 1963 The Lincoln Star

Washington (AP) — The pro-longed Senate inquiry into the TFX airplane contract focused Friday on whether rival companies will provide prototypes for in-the-air testing to determine who finally gets the $6.5-billion job.

The Boeing Co. of Seattle, which lost the initial contract to General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., reports itself ready and eager to build 4 prototypes at a cost of $200 million. It apparently has strong backing from some members of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

But Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., in a transcript of Thursday's secret hearing released Friday, said General Dynamics thus far has refused to go along with the testing plan and has not submitted cost data requested by the senators, now in the 3rd month of their inquiry.

Would Delay

Boeing officials estimate that such a test program would delay production of the multi-purpose, high performance plane by about a year.

Last November, when the initial, relatively small contract went to General Dynamics, it was announced that production of the new plane for use by both Air Force and Navy was expected to begin in about 2½ years—or about mid 1965.

Thus, on the basis of Boeing estimates, if the prototype showdown program were undertaken it would mean the planes would not begin coming into operational use before mid 1966. Ultimately about 1,700 aircraft are to be built.

McNamara Picked

The selection of General Dynamics as the contractor was made by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, with the support of his civilian service chiefs, and against military experts' opinion.

Military evaluation boards repeatedly reported that Boeing proposals promised a superior plane at a lower cost.

Winnie Broadsides Conservatives' Critics

London (UPI) — In the twilight of his political career Sir Winston Churchill aimed a broadside at critics of the ruling Conservatives Friday.

He declared Britain must keep its nuclear deterrent, not seek shelter behind the atomic power of its friends.

"Without our nuclear shield, our defense is forever committed to our friends, and our friends in the alliance, which have for so long been those of moderation and peace, would diminish greatly in weight," he said in a statement.

I do not advocate the spreading about of nuclear arms. But this country has an unequalled record of responsibility in international affairs. These deadly weapons are safer in our hands than in any other."

'Retired'

Only Wednesday the 88-year-old statesman announced he had decided not to seek re-election to the House of Commons. But now he plunged into the political storm over British nuclear weapons with all his old vigor.

The opposition Laborites and the Liberals believe Britain is wasting its resources trying to keep up its dues in the atomic club with the United States, the Soviet Union and France.

But in his message to the annual meeting of the Primrose League, Churchill said the abandonment of nuclear arms would condemn Britain to "a course holding great peril."

The Primrose League is an organization dedicated to Conservative Party ideals and a strong Britain. The old warrior statesman, the league's grandmaster, was not present at the session held near the houses of Parliament.

'Bottle Club' Bill Advanced

The Legislature Friday gave first round approval to a so-called "bottle club" bill.

The measure, LB21, provides for the licensing of bottle clubs, whether privately operated or operated by non-profit organizations.

The unicameral's Government Committee, which sent the thoroughly amended bill to the floor, reported the state now has some 112 of these clubs, many of them operating illegally.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chief sponsor of LB21, termed the measure "a sincere attempt to tighten the thing up."

"The bill may not be perfect," Carpenter acknowledged. "Two years hence it may be necessary to amend it, either to make it more stringent or less restrictive," he said.

A 25-0 vote sent the measure on its way.

SEN. WARNER REQUESTS REVIEW OF ACTION ON HIGHER INSURANCE TAX

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waterloo moved in the Legislature Friday for reconsideration of the body's action Thursday in giving first round approval to a bill designed to yield some revenue to the state by increasing the tax on insurance premiums of domestic insurance companies.

Action on Warner's motion was deferred until next week. The insurance premium tax increase from 4/10 to 6/10 of 1% called for in LB17. A motion to kill the bill Thursday lost 18-20.

LB190 — Increasing the maximum weekly Unemployment Compensation benefit from $14 to $30 in the case of those paid less than $600 in the latest quarter; $36 to $38 for those paid $600 or more. LB191 — Authorizing the state to issue bonds to finance the state's persons right to public accommodations without regard to race or other factors that make effect if applied to hotels, motels, restaurants, bars, theaters, parks, amusement and recreation places.

LB192 — Clarifying law related to the Nebraska veterans' aid fund.

LB193 — Authorizing counties in which first class cities are located to purchase and improve public grounds, thereby permitting development of recreational areas in connection with flood control.

LB194 — Providing that each farm truck with a factory rated capacity of one ton or less shall pay a registration fee of $5; larger trucks, $10.

A public hearing on the application for a third bank in North Platte will be held June 4 and 5, if need be, in North Platte, according to State Banking Director Ralph Misko.

The application for a state charter for the North Plate State Bank was filed by Lloyd Bacon of Lexington, Harold Bacon of Kearney and others. Site of the hearing will be the courthouse.

The Bacons propose capital accounts totaling $250,000, including

Cigarette, Alcohol Tax Hike Advanced

Nebraska's Legislature gave first round approval Friday to proposals to increase the state tax on cigarettes, liquor and beer, but spurned a proposal to inaugurate a new tax on cigar and other tobacco products, not presently taxed.

The two cent per package hike in cigarette taxes brings the levy up to 6 cents per package.

Backers' estimated the increase will bring in another $3 million per year.

The proposal to levy a tax on cigars, snuff, pipe tobacco and other tobacco products was advanced by the Unemployment Compensation Committee as an amendment to the cigarette tax bill, LB10.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff moved to eliminate the committee proposal and keep LB10 a cigarette tax bill. Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, Revenue Committee chairman, defended the cigar tax and tax on other tobacco products, estimating that this would yield another $350,000 to $375,000 per year.

Floor Speeches

A string of floor speeches opposed the cigar and tobacco products tax, many senators pointing to difficulties and costs of collection, inconveniences to dealers and other factors.

A voice vote dropped the cigar-tobacco tax proposal and the bill as a straight cigarette tax measure advanced from general file on a 35-1 vote, with only Sen. Fred Gottschalk of Columbus opposing.

The Legislature then plunged into consideration of another revenue measure, LB9, increasing the taxes on beer and liquor.

Sen. Carpenter authored both LB10 and LB9.

LB9 was advanced from general file 29-1 after a failing attempt by Sen. William Moulton of Omaha to lower the beer tax increase involved.

Beer Tax Hike

In the form proposed by the Revenue Committee and approved on general file, LB9 increases the beer tax from 4 to 6 cents per gallon, and increases the tax on liquor against advancing the bill.

Moulton moved to kill the bill altogether but was defeated 2-29, Omaha Sen. Michael Russell being the other minority senator.

Moulton cast the only vote against advancing the bill.

Action on the withdrawal request was deferred and there was no floor discussion.

The bill would submit to voters next year a constitutional amendment to establish the new state board.

The board would take over functions now performed by the state normal board and the University of Nebraska Regents.

A move developed in the Legislature Friday to drop, for the present, the idea of creating a Central State Board of Higher Education which would supervise the University of Nebraska and the 4 state teachers colleges.

Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln asked the Legislature for permission to withdraw the enabling bill, LB762, introduced by the Government and Military Affairs Committee.

Action on the withdrawal request was deferred and there was no floor discussion.

The bill would submit to voters next year a constitutional amendment to establish the new state board.

The board would take over functions now performed by the state normal board and the University of Nebraska Regents.

Budget Committee Asks Plans Of NU Medical College

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer
In order to get a "perspective" of the needs of the University of Nebraska's College of Medicine, Budget Committee Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings Friday asked Dean J. P. Tollman to submit "long-range" plans for the school.

The request was made as the committee delved into the college's request for an additional $798,750 to enable the hiring of 28 more professional staff members during the coming biennium, plus supporting staff positions.

Sen. Marvel asked De an Tollman if these additional staff requests represented the optimum of the school's needs, or whether they marked a phase in future development of the college.

Requested Consistently

Tollman said there was need to strengthen the medical college in every department, some more than others, and explained the school was now stronger in its basic science instruction than it is in clinical teaching.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin stressed again that one of the "most critical" problems of the school is its lack of beds, and that the proposed addition of two wards during the coming year would help alleviate this problem.

Hardin and Tollman both said also that additional staff was needed in order to strengthen the school's education of its students through work in affiliated hospitals in Omaha.

Dean E. F. Frolik of the College of Agriculture also was asked to submit long range plans for the Mead Field Laboratory, and to explain the proposed disposition of some experimental projects at Havelock.

Project Queried

Queried about the beef research project at Fort Robinson, Frolik said it had been their original plan to move this operation to Hastings where the U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to establish a meat research center on part of the Naval Ammunition

Postal Receipts Here Show 35% Increase In Year

Lincoln Post Office receipts totalled $481,684 for the period of March 30 to April 28 for an increase of 35% over the comparable period last year. (An increase in postal rates went into effect in January 1963.)

Acting Postmaster Kenneth Lewis also reported that 1963 fiscal year receipts so far total $4,976,570, representing an increase of nearly 11% compared with a year ago.

Money orders issued totalled $185,035 against a 1962 comparable figure of $205,365. Postal savings on deposit amounted to $504,602 compared with $607,403 a year ago.

In order to get a "perspective" of the needs of the University of Nebraska's College of Medicine, Budget Committee Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings Friday asked Dean J. P. Tollman to submit "long-range" plans for the school. The request was made as the committee delved into the college's request for an additional $798,780 to enable the hiring of 26 more professional staff members during the coming biennium, plus supporting staff positions.

Sen. Marvel asked Dean Tollman if these additional staff requests represented the "optimum" of the school's needs, or whether they marked a phase in future development of the college.

Requested Consistently

Dean E. F. Frolik of the College of Agriculture also was asked to submit long range plans for the Mead Field Laboratory, and to explain the proposed disposition of some experimental projects at Havelock.

Project Queried

Queried about the beef research project at Fort Robinson, Frolik said it had been their original plans to move this operation to Hastings where the U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to establish a meat research center on part of the Naval Amunition Depot which will be declared surplus.

He added, however, that a number of ranchers in northwestern Nebraska have been "very vigorous" in their opposition to total withdrawal of beef experiments from that area, and have asked that some type of research operation be continued in that range area.

Eugene C. Reed, director of the Conservation and Survey Division, asked the committee for additional funds to permit expansion of its groundwater test drilling program, and to initiate topographic mapping of the state.

The division has requested $121,500 for 1963-65 to expand its activities in these areas.

The committee will conclude its hearings on the university's budget requests Monday afternoon.

Ivy Day Preceded By Variety Of Campus Activity

But not all pre-Ivy Day activities are "song and dance" as the four NU students (lower left) could tell you. The four, including from left to right, were Gay Romans, Mike Campbell (foreground), Doug Keill and Denny Christie. They are being "spooked" during what they had hoped would be a quiet coffee break in the Student Union Crib.

"Spooking" is just as well-known tradition at the University as Ivy Day itself. It happens every spring when Mortar Board and Innocents members wander about casting examining glances at prospective honorary members.

"Spooking" ends this afternoon when the present members of Mortar Board and Innocents tap and tackle their new honorary initiates at the climax of the Ivy Day festivities.

The University of Nebraska's traditional highlight of the spring social season, Spring Day and Ivy Day weekend, is in full swing now, and the week leading up to the annual event seems to have been jam-packed with campus activities.

Cancelled afternoon classes and Spring Day games on the ag campus yesterday kicked off the weekend activities. The events included everything from roller skating relays, to tug-of-wars, to haystacking. In past days other traditions have been carried on—kite flying, for instance, Greek games—and such.

Practice makes perfect, they say, and "perfect" is what last year's Ivy Day sing winners, Alpha Phi sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity, hope to be this afternoon when they compete with the other 38 groups vying for Men and Women's Sing honors.

Pictured during one of their many practices this week are the Alpha Phi's, under the direction of Miss Carole Kramer, rehearsing their contest number, "Lullaby of Birdland," and the Sigma Chi's, under the direction of Rich Revis, who are vocally "Seeing Nellie Home."

The sing, an ever-popular part of Ivy Day festivities, will begin this afternoon at 12:20, directly following the presentation of the May Queen, the Ivy Day Court, Daisy and Ivy Chains.

Not all recent activities of University of Nebraska students have been concerned with the Spring Day and Ivy Day holiday, however. New initiates of one of the University's sororities have recently demonstrated their ability at constructing and flying kites.

Kite-flying, a national Kappa Alpha Theta initiation tradition, is nothing new to the Nebraska campus. Nebraska Theta's have gone through the traditional spring rite for years, and we understand that some of the more unfortunate girls who weren't able to get their kites up this week will be repeating the attempt later this spring.

The Colonial Inn was the site for a Punch Party, Thursday afternoon. The occasion was a farewell courtesy honoring Mrs. George Biggs, wife of the former commander of the 371st Bomb Squadron. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Russell Heller, Mrs. Paul Pudwill, Mrs. Thomas Sutton, Mrs. Richmond Boykin, Mrs. Raymond J. Hawkins, and Mrs. Peter Kraska. Guests enjoying the afternoon were the wives of the 371st Bomb Squadron officers.

Another farewell courtesy which was held Thursday afternoon was a tea honoring Mrs. Glen J. Lally. Col. Lally, former commander of the 370th Bomb Squadron, will depart LAFB in the near future for his new PCS at Forbes AFB, Kan. Hostesses for the lovely candlelight tea were Mrs. William Sund, Mrs. Lauri Buntin, Mrs. Richard Valen, Mrs. James Shelton, Mrs. Howard O. Evans, Mrs. William Carrier, Mrs. Clifford Hanna and Mrs. Ben Hill.

Mrs. Russell Heller was a hostess Wednesday when she entertained at her Wilkins Terrace residence with lunch and bridge. Guests included Mrs. Lloyd Riffer, Lt. and Mrs.

Mrs. Olive Broman, Mrs. Harold C. Morrison, Mrs. Myron G. Piggott, Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner, Mrs. Frederick Langille and Mrs. Gerald Linschied. Recipients of the prizes were Mrs. Broman, Mrs. Riffer and Mrs. McKenzie.

Mrs. Lyle Knight entertained an afternoon bridge yesterday at her Walker Drive residence. Ladies enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Charles Gove, Mrs. J. James D. Jelley, Mrs. James Reeves, Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner, Mrs. C. E. Lightfoot, Mrs. William E. Carlson and Mrs. John Ingramham.

Last Friday evening at the Officers Club there was a farewell canape and dinner party given by the 307th Bomb Wing Maintenance for four of their officers who will be departing LAFB in the next two weeks for new assignments. The guests of honor were Capt. and Mrs. Lewis C. Olive who will depart for their new PCS at Greenham Common, England; Capt. and Mrs. Charles E. Gingrich who will be transferred to Urbana, Ill., where the Captain will attend the University of Illinois with Air Force Institute of Technology; Lt. and Mrs.

Thomas Siegfried who will depart the USA for Wheelus AFB, Libya, and Lt. and Mrs. John Giessman, having completed his Air Force tour will reside in St. Louis, Mo. Invited guests for the evening were Col. and Mrs. Walter F. Duch.

Maj. and Mrs. William Carlson were a host and hostess recently when they entertained at a farewell dinner party at their Walker Drive residence. The 98th ARS is gradually breaking up. Invited guests were Lt. Col. Fred Towney who has already departed for his new assignment at Sullivane AFB, Mich. Maj. and Mrs. Charles Peterson who depart today for Castle AFB, Calif., and KC135 training until the middle of September and then on to their new PCS at McCoy AFB, Fla. Capt. and Mrs. George Gorman and Capt. and Mrs. John Ingramham were also on the guest list.

The Ingrahams already have left for their assignment at Plattsburgh AFB, NY. Capt. Gorman left last week for his PCS at Pease AFB, New Hampshire and the host, Maj. Carlson departed for his new station at Westover AFB, Mass. Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Carlson will remain at LAFB untill school is out. It is sad to see so many nice people leave at one time. Their many friends will miss them and hope they will enjoy their new stations. One nice thing about being in the Air Force, it is very likely that their paths will cross again with the many friends they have acquired at various bases.

Maj. and Mrs. Peterson, packing, still had time to entertain weekend guests last weekend. Lt. Col. Orrin B. Maxwell is from Stewart AFB, N.Y. and Maj. Howard J. Anderson is from Maxwell AFB, Ala. The two out of town guests and Maj. Peterson attended Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB together in 1959. I'm sure they enjoyed reminiscing their school year in Alabama.

Col. and Mrs. James T. Gribble had an enjoyable three days at Kemper Military Academy in Bonneville, Mo. visiting their son Jim, when they attended the parents weekend at the academy. Enroute to Bonneville they visited friends at White-man AFB.

Maj. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner returned last weekend from a three week leave that took them to the Ozarks and Hot Springs resort area, Tampa, Fla., and Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Capt. and Mrs. Raymond J. Lally departed LAFB yesterday to spend the weekend in Omaha.

Mrs. Russell Heller entertained recently at a pizza party and an evening of bridge. Ladies enjoying the affair were Mrs. Paul Pudwill, Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. Keith Nystrom, Mrs. Alan Jorgenson, Mrs. Arnold Austin, Mrs. Claudia Birdsall and Mrs. Robert Ace.

Newcomers

Plan Party

The Capital City Newcomers Club will meet for a 7:45 o'clock dessert-supper and evening of bridge next Tuesday at Coatney's, 14th and South.

All newcomers to the city are welcome to attend, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. George Hess, 434-3495.

When Mrs. William Sund, Mrs. Richard Valen, Mrs. Howard O. Evans, Mrs. Clifford Hanna and Mrs. Ben Hill were tea hostesses at the Officers Club on Thursday afternoon, the party honored Mrs. Glenn J.

Lally who, with Col. Lally, former commander of 370th Bomb Squadron, leaves soon for the Colonel's new station at Forbes AFB, Kansas.

No time to dawdle this morning—so on with the news.

Had word from Scottsdale, Ariz., that Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart of Lincoln have a new granddaughter—a young and petite Miss Hahn who arrived on Thursday, May 2. The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hahn, and her mother is the former Dee Marie Stuart. The baby's maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs.

Oliver Brown of Lincoln, and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hahn of Scottsdale.

We also learned that Mr. Stuart flew to Scottsdale on Thursday evening to join Mrs. Stuart, who has been there for the past three weeks and, of course, to greet his new granddaughter.

The revelers are having a "Viuet Festival" this evening at Hotel Cornhusker.

The party is a dinner dance and planning the affair is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wuey, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Don Albin of Broken Bow; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Deeter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Forke, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Alice Stephens.

The guest couples will be Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Marden Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Swanson.

PEO Chapter

Mrs. Brian Hendrickson will be hostess to the members of Chapter BY, PEO, at her home, 2727 Mansc, on Tuesday. The meeting will follow a 7:30 o'clock dessert-supper.

Capt. and Mrs. George Goman and Capt. and Mrs. John Ingram were also on the guest list. The Ingrahams already have left for their assignment at Plattsburgh AFB, NY. Capt. Goman left last week for his PCS at Pease AFB, New Hampshire and the host, Maj. Carlson departed for his new station at Westover AFB, Mass. Mrs. Goman and Mrs. Carlson will remain at LAFB untill school is out. It is sad to see so many nice people leave at one time. Their many friends will miss them and hope they will enjoy their new stations. One nice thing about being in the Air Force, it is very likely that their paths will cross again with the many friends they have acquired at various bases.

Maj. and Mrs. Peterson, packing, still had time to entertain weekend guests last weekend. Lt. Col. Orrin B. Maxwell is from Stewart AFB, N.Y. and Maj. Howard J. Anderson is from Maxwell AFB, Ala. The two out of town guests and Maj. Peterson attended Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB together in 1959. I'm sure they enjoyed reminiscing their school year in Alabama.

Col. and Mrs. James T. Gribble had an enjoyable three days at Kemper Military Academy in Boonville, Mo. visiting their son Jim, when they attended the parents weekend at the academy. Enroute to Boonville they visited friends at Whitehorse AFB.

Maj. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wagner returned last weekend from a three week leave that took them to the Ozarks and Hot Springs resort area, Tampa, Fla., and Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Capt. and Mrs. Raymond Hawkin's departed LAFB yesterday to spend the weekend in Omaha.

Mrs. Russell Heller entertained recently at a pizza party and an evening of bridge. Ladies enjoying the affair were Mrs. Paul Pudwill, Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. Keith Nystrom, Mrs. Alan Jorgenson, Mrs. Arnold Austin, Mrs. Claudia Birdsall and Mrs. Robert Ace.

Newcomers

Plan Party

The Capital City Newcomers Club will meet for a 7:45 o'clock dessert-supper and evening of bridge next Tuesday at Coatney's, 14th and South.

All newcomers to the city are welcome to attend, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. George Hess, 434-3495.

When Mrs. William Sund, Mrs. Richard Valen, Mrs. James Shelton, Mrs. Howard Evans, Mrs. Clifford Hanna and Mrs. Ben Hill were tea hostesses at the Officers Club on Thursday afternoon, the party honored Mrs. Glenn J. Lally who, with Col. Lally, former commander of 370th Bomb Squadron, leaves soon for the Colonel's new station at Forbes AFB, Kansas.

Around The Town

No time to dawdle this morning—so on with the news.

Had word from Scottsdale, Ariz., that Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart of Lincoln have a new granddaughter—a young and petite Miss Hahn who arrived on Thursday, May 2. The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hahn, and her mother is the former Dee Marie Stuart. The baby's maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs.

Oliver Brown of Lincoln, and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hahn of Scottsdale.

We also learned that Mr. Stuart flew to Scottsdale on Thursday evening to join Mrs. Stuart, who has been there for the past three weeks and, of course, to greet his new granddaughter.

The guest couples will be Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Liggett, Mr. and Mrs. Marden Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Swan-

er. The party is a dinner dance and planning the affair is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagey, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Don Albin of Broken Bow; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Deeter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Forke, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Stephens.

The Reveler's are having a "Violet Festival" this evening at Hotel Cornhusker.

son, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCracken, Dr. and Mrs. Bowen Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. John Baldwin, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Synhorst.

PEO Chapter

Mrs. Brian Hendrickson will be hostess to the members of Chapter BY, PEO, at her home, 2727 Manse, on Tuesday. The meeting will follow a 7:30 o'clock dessert-supper.

Suburbia Polishes Its Sunglasses

EASTBOROUGH

The sun may always shine bright on "my old Kentucky home," but there are times when we have wondered if it is ever to be seen more than a few minutes now and then in Lincoln and — of course, Suburbia.

Things could be worse, however — remember the snow drifts in January — so we'll just continue to polish our sunglasses, keep the patio umbrellas in storage — and wait.

Meanwhile, Suburbia, and particularly Eastborough today, seems to be having no trouble maintaining its busy pace, sun or no sun.

This apparently is fine weather for bridge, for we have table after table to tell you about, and we'll begin with last Monday. This was an afternoon dessert luncheon and bridge party at the J. B. McLeroy home.

During the afternoon, Mrs. McLeroy entertained a s-l-borough neighbors Mrs. Dale West, Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. Will Thompson, Mrs. Gay

Thimblin, Mrs. Joe Hamblin, Mrs. Adam Rech, and Mrs. Dan Smith.

Mrs. McLeroy entertained again on Tuesday evening, but this time she was joined in her role as hostess by Mrs. Lowell Umland and Mrs. William Lundy, the threesome entertained Eastborough neighbors and Lincoln friends at the evening gathering for dessert and bridge, at the home of Mrs. McLeroy.

Guests were Mrs. Everett Niemeyer, Mrs. Leonard Johnson, Mrs. Joe Schroer, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Jack Plummer, and Mrs. Tom Ehlers.

And bridge on Thursday evening was played at the Harry J. Rust home where Mrs. Rust entertained neighbors at the regular twice-monthly gathering of the group's eightsome.

The evening of bridge was preceded by dessert.

And evidently all the bridge decks in the neighborhood aren't worn out yet, for there's another gathering scheduled for Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lowell Umland.

Mrs. Umland is to entertain three neighbors at another dessert and bridge gathering. Those guests are to be Mrs. Ruth Schroer, Mrs. Leonard Johnson, and Mrs. Everett Niemeyer.

Presently enjoying the advanced state of spring in the sunny state of Oklahoma are Eastborough residents Mrs. Don E. Mitchell and her sons, Phillip and Neil.

Mrs. Mitchell and her sons flew to Oklahoma yesterday where they are visiting Mr. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, in Purcell. They will be returning to Lincoln on Monday.

And already preparing for a quite extensive visit that is to begin next Friday are more Eastborough residents, Mrs. J. B. McLeroy Jr. and her children, Shelley and Brad.

They will be journeying to the Lone Star State where they will spend the rest of May with Mrs. McLeroy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gustafson, in Fort Worth.

Tex., and with Mr. McLeroy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McLeroy, in Seguin, Tex.

Another birthday celebrated was that of Master Jeffrey Niemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Niemeyer, whose sixth anniversary was marked with an afternoon party at his home on Sunday.

Jeffrey's fellow celebrants were Mary Ann Maughan, Sue and Steve Johnson, Shelia McLeroy, Connie Engler, Jimmie Baumert, John and Jane Adams, and his sister, Sharon.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Becker last weekend were former Eastborough neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Miller, who have been residing in North Platte since their move from Lincoln last June.

The occasion to visit their former neighbors arose when

Dr. and Mrs. Miller came to Lincoln to attend the dental convention here.

And Eastborough's latest loss is Meadow Lane's gain in the form of Mr. and Mrs. Judson N. McDougall and their children, Pam and David, who are now in their new home at 7134 Dudley, Meadow Lane, Suburbia.

The not-so-distant move was made yesterday.

DAR Officers Are Installed

Following the May luncheon of Deborah Avery Chapter, DAR, which was held Friday afternoon at the Hotel Cornhusker, formal installation of recently elected officers was held. Those installed were (from the left) Mrs. Richard Dinges, curator; Mrs. L. D. Temple, Arnot, treasurer; Mrs. O. E. Kingery, librarian; Mrs. J. H. Claybaugh, historian; and Mrs. Nellye Knight, corresponding secretary. Also installed were Mrs. C. Harold Clayton, registrar, and council members, Mrs. Henry A. Spells and Mrs. Carl E. D. Alderman and Mrs. Clayton.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

Teamwork is very important in defensive play, as everyone knows. Here is an unusual case where complete faith in partner enabled West to defeat a contract which otherwise would have been made.

South was in three notrump, East having overcalled the club bid with a heart. West led the king of hearts, on which East played the ten, and continued with a heart, which East took with the ace.

East then returned the two of hearts, South winning with the queen. West had to discard on this trick, and decided, after some thought, to discard the ace of clubs!

As a result of this extraordinary play, South went down one. If West had discarded any other card, South would have made the contract.

Let's assume that West had thrown a spade or a diamond instead. In such case, it would have been completely normal for declarer to lead a club and go up with the king if West followed low. A club continuation would then drop the A-Q to give South ten tricks.

Going up with the King would be a forced play on declarer's part because he would reason that the hand was lost if East had the ace, and he would therefore have to assume that West had

The basis for West's discard of the ace is simply a matter of interpreting East's play of the two of hearts at trick three. East's hearts at this point were the 9-8-7-2, all equals after the first two tricks had been played.

The deliberate selection of the deuce, East's lowest heart, was a use of the suit-direction convention. If East had had, say, the ace of spades, he would signal the entry in the highest ranking suit by playing his highest heart, the nine.

In the same way, he could signal for the intermediate suit, diamonds, by playing an intermediate heart (the seven or eight) to show the king of diamonds.

The play of the deuce displayed interest in the low suit, clubs.

The May luncheon of the Lincoln Opti-Mrs. Club was held Friday afternoon at the Lincoln Hotel, and was followed by the installation of new officers. Heading the group for the coming year will be (from the left) Mrs. Jack Obbink, secretary; Mrs. Howard Brown, president; and Mrs. Daniel Lavaty, vice president. Not pictured is the new treasurer, Mrs. E. Meyer.

Keya Paha County School Bonds Election Ruling Is Affirmed By State Supreme Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday affirmed a Keya Paha County District Court's decision that an election is valid although there may be interference from the weather, i.e., snow or rain.

The appellants—Martin Peterson, Elmer Richardson, George Doyle and Raymond Gipson, residents of Keya Paha County—brought action against the Board of Education of Keya Paha County, High School District following an election to issue bonds to build new school facilities. The appellants sought to have the election declared null and void.

Five days prior to the election, the appellants contended, the whole area was subjected to a blizzard and only on election day, March 15, 1962, was there thawing and sunshine.

The election, considering bonds costing $320,000, carried with 307 votes in favor of the proposition and 184 against it.

The appellants testified in District court that the vote was unrepresentative, citing that in the general county elections in 1960, the total vote count was 905.

The appellants further cited the constitutional article stating that "there shall be no hindrance of impediment to the right of a qualified voter to exercise the elective franchise." This statute they agreed, although interpreted previously to involve interference by human beings, should include interference by an act of God.

The trial court's decision was upheld by the Supreme Court which declared that "all electors failing to vote at an election assent to the affirmative vote as shown by the returns."

In another ruling Friday

the court:

—Affirmed a Nebraska State Railway Commission order which reduced rates on the carriage of live cattle.

Nebraska residents of western towns complained that the commission may not adjust the rates to equalize differences between competing shippers.

The appellate court stated that since the commission must correct discriminatory rates which future competitive shippers.

The court held the rates for shipping cattle direct from Weeping Water to Ord, Allen, and Hastings were respectively $1.35, $1.44, and $1.76 per ton lighter.

The rates for shipping the stock from Ashland to each town were $1.35.

But from Ashland, because the rates to Ord, Allen, and Hastings were respectively $1.35, $1.44, and $1.76 per ton lighter than those from Ashland, the discriminatory rates were adjusted to equalize differences between competing shippers.

The appellants—Martin Peterson, Elmer Richardson, George Doyle and Raymond Gipson, residents of Keya Paha County—brought action against the Board of Education of Keya Paha County

High School District following an election to issue bonds to build new school facilities. The appellants sought to have the election declared null and void.

Five days prior to the election, the appellants contended, the whole area was subjected to a blizzard and only on election day, March 15, 1962, was there thawing and sunshine.

The election, considering bonds costing $320,000, carried with 307 votes in favor of the proposition and 184 against it.

The appellants testified in District court that the vote was unrepresentative, citing that in the general county elections in 1960, the total vote count was 905.

The appellants further cited the constitutional article stating that "there shall be no hindrance of impediment to the right of a qualified voter to exercise the elective franchise." This statute they agreed, although interpreted previously to involve interference by human beings, should include interference by an act of God.

The trial court's decision was upheld by the Supreme Court which declared that "all electors failing to vote at an election assent to the affirmative vote as shown by the returns."

In another ruling Friday the court:

—Affirmed a Nebraska State Railway Commission order fixing reduced rates on the carriage of limestone dust.

Nebraska railroads of western trunk lines argued that the rates must not affect the rates to equalize differences between competing shippers.

The principle is true, the court said, that the commission must correct discriminatory rates which injure competitive shippers.

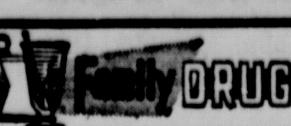

The limestone dust shipped from Weeping Water is required to be shipped by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company and the Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad. The Burlington alone ships the dust from Ashland. Because the rates to Ord, Allen, and Hastings were respectively $1.36, $1.54, and $1.36 per ton higher from Weeping Water than from Ashland, the discriminatory rates were adjusted to equate the rates between competing shippers.

The principle is true, the court said, that the commission must correct discriminatory rates which injure competitive shippers.

Cheer up!

Gear up with GRAVELY
for Twin-Tool Gardening!

ROTARY PLOW—PERFECT SEEDBED

IN ONE OPERATION! Finish plowing, start planting! No need for harrowing or dragging . . . Gravely Rotary Plow's powerful rotary action (Its four blades bite into the furrow 800 times a minute!) gives you a deep, even, mellow seedbed every time. Plows deep as 10" in soft soils, 7" in hard soils. Safety clutch protected, Plow is driven directly through all-gear drive by powerful Gravely Tractor.

ROTARY CULTIVATOR—POWER CULTIVATE ALL

SEASON LONG! Get total cultivating action with Gravely's Rotary Cultivator! Powerful blades dig deep to stir soil thoroughly, aerate it completely. Adjusts so you can throw dirt into plants, or keep dirt away from bushy row crops. Cultivator uses Rotary Plow drive, is powered by all-gear drive from Gravely Tractor.

New Looks To Match GRAVELY'S Unmatched POWER—PERFORMANCE!

Choose from two newly-styled Gravely Tractors for 1963! Choose the Custom for Gravely at its economical best. Choose the Super for the same unexcelled performance of the Custom—plus convenience accessories including Electric Starter and Governor.

a great team
home-church
and our Laymen's Organization

Christian Home Service Week begins Sunday. And Spiritual Values take on a greater meaning as Laymen's Organizations everywhere set out to get all the families of their respective communities in church together. Then, Mr. and Mrs. join the throng of church-goers this week. Help the men folk to apply some Christian Principles in their efforts to solve some of our many human problems... family problems if you please. Do some Golden Rule Living during Christian Home Service Week. Surely no one can afford less, on this occasion, than to honor God with their presence and their prayers. Baseball may be important to a great many people but believe us all people are important with God. He loves them everyone. He placed His church amongst us to serve us all. The church is very special with God. Just remember that He sent Jesus to die for IT and for YOU. He privileged us with home...a great institution. Yours should be Christian if it is to serve the purpose He intended that it should serve. Then wake up! During this week put on righteous armour and make a move, with your whole family, in the direction of your favorite church. Help make Christian Home Service Week a momentous success. Give our laymen proper credit but give God all the glory.

Pointing The Way

"...to the Church that MEETS IN YOUR HOUSE—grace and peace be to you from God..." Thus wrote the prisoner, Paul, to Philemon, a leading member of the Church at Colossae. He refers to the love that characterizes the life of this rich church member and asks that he receive Onesimus, the slave, with warmth and affection. In a larger sense he identifies the home as the rightful dwelling place of God. Thus, the church as a fellowship of the faithful is identified with the dwelling place of a member.

What a team!! The home and the Church. Home—a place for growing and the Church—a pathway of service and worship of God. The home—a place where love, peace, goodness are experienced. The Church—the fountainhead of these spiritual values.

The home without God is empty; God without the family unit as an example of His love needs greater interpretation. For it is the simple designation of God as Father that opens the windows of understanding of God as Eternal Spirit. Supporters of this page are instrumental in pointing THE WAY to the church or synagogue of your choice.

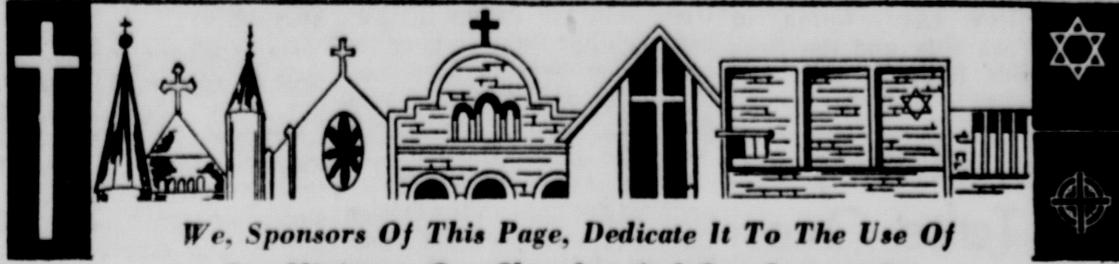

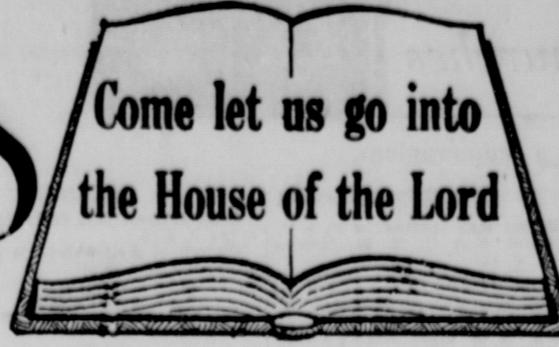

"The Church that meets in your house..." The challenge is simple and direct: So live in your house that it may be a home, a dwelling place for God.

a great team home=church and our Laymen's Organization

Christian Home Service Week begins Sunday. And Spiritual Values take on a greater meaning as Laymen's Organizations everywhere set out to get all the families of their respective communities in church together. Then, Mr. and Mrs. join the throng of church-goers this week. Help the men folk to apply some Christian Principles in this effort to solve some of our many human problems... family problems if you please. Do some Golden Rule Living during Christian Home Service Week. Surely no one can afford less, on this occasion, than to honor God with their presence and their prayers. Baseball may be important to a great many people but believe us all people are important with God. He loves them everyone. He placed His church amongst us to serve us all. The church is very special with God. Just remember that He sent Jesus to die for IT and for YOU. He privileged us with home... a great institution. Yours should be Christian if it is to serve the purpose He intended that it should serve. Then wake up! During this week put on righteous armour and make a move, with your whole family, in the direction of your favorite church. Help make Christian Home Service Week a momentous success. Give our laymen proper credit but give God all the glory.

You In The Church
The Church In You
—form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord and let us support his program of service to humanity, to the faithful workers, in daily Bible reading and attend services regularly.

Pointing The Way

"...to the Church that MEETS IN YOUR HOUSE—grace and peace be to you from God..." Thus wrote the prisoner, Paul, to Philemon, a leading member of the Church at Colossae. He refers to the love that characterizes the life of this rich church member and asks that he receive Onesimus, the slave, with warmth and affection. In a larger sense he identifies the home as the rightful dwelling place of God. Thus, the church as a fellowship of the faithful is identified with the dwelling place of a member.

What a team!! The home and the Church. Home—a place for growing and the Church—a pathway of service and worship of God. The home—a place where love, peace, goodness are experienced. The Church—the fountainhead of these spiritual values. The home without God is empty; God without the family unit as an example of His love needs greater interpretation. For it is the simple designation of God as Father that opens the windows of understanding of God as Eternal Spirit. Supporters of this page are instrumental in pointing THE WAY to the church or synagogue of your choice.

"The Church that meets in your house . . ." The challenge is simple and direct: So live in your house that it may be a home, a dwelling place for God.

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — Two International Control Commission (ICC) helicopters were shot at and set afire Friday in east-central Laos while neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma was there on a peace mission.

Informed sources said the helicopters apparently were attacked by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, which has barred the 3-nation commission from its territory in the tense message from the team said "we are all safe." He confirmed that the two helicopters were set afire.

A Pathet Lao broadcast charged the rival neutralist forces of Gen. Kong Le shot at the helicopters in an attempt to sabotage peace talks. It also asserted a Canadian on the commission team was wounded in the leg.

A commission spokesman in Vientiane said, however, a

Senate Unit Votes To Restore Postal Cut

Washington (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day won agreement from the Senate Appropriations Committee Friday to restore $50 million of the $69.8 million the House sliced off his operating budget for the next year.

But Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, fighting to get back at least $30 million which he says is necessary to hire enough Internal Revenue agents to catch tax evaders, was voted only $9.2 million.

If Day's victory stands, senators said, it should enable him to halt plans to cut Saturday deliveries and force some office dwellers and new homeowners to call at post offices for their mail. Day had said the cut would make such service reductions necessary.

The big question was whether the House would back down, since the Senate usually goes along with its Appropriations Committee. The committee agreed that the $50 million was a rock bottom figure for which it would fight indefinitely with House conferees.

Day's pronouncement that he will have to reduce some postal services unless he gets the money he says he needs has been denounced by some House members.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is your job to figure out the number of letters in each word, subtract the sum, then add the rest, add the rectangle. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. (Distributed by King Features, Inc. Registered U.S. Patent Office)

Unbeaten Duo Tops Today's Tiny Derby Field

Louisville, Ky. — Candy Spots and No Robbery, two colts who have never lost a race, plus another pair who sport unblemished records this season, head the field for the 89th Kentucky Derby Saturday.

It could be one of the greatest races since Aristides won Derby No. 1 in 1875 and earned $2,850.

Rex C. Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the 6-5 favorite for the grueling 1 1/4-mile race at Churchill Downs, has won 6-for-6, and could become the second straight California colt to capture America's blue ribbon classic. Decidedly won in record time a year ago.

The other unbeaten colt is No Robbery, a speedy late comer who has won five straight for the Greentree Stable of John Hay Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles S. Payson.

Never Bend, last year's champion 2-year-old from Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable and John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay are both 3-for-3 this season. Never Bend is second choice at 5-2, with No Robbery next at 3-1 and Chateaugay, 15-1.

Wee Field

A field of 9, smallest in 6 years, is scheduled to go postward before about 100,000 fans at 3:30 p.m. CST, Saturday for the $125,000-added event. If all go, the pot will gross $151,400, with $108,900 for the winner.

The Derby will be televised and broadcast nationally with television from 3-4 p.m., CST, and radio from 3:45-3:45 p.m. The weatherman promised partly cloudy skies with the temperature around 78 degrees.

Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, Ambush Stable's On My Honor, Walnut Hill Farms' Gray Pet, B. J. Ridder's Royal Tower and the rank outsider, J. J. Cherock's Investor, complete the field.

Never in Derby history have two horses gone into the race unbeaten. Seven undefeated horses have started, and only two have emerged from the race still with a perfect record in the last half century. They were Regret, the only filly winner, in 1915, and Morvich in 1922. Morvich was the first California-bred winner.

Most of the horses were out for either a walk, light gallop or a breeze around the track Friday morning. The heaviest drill was by No Robbery, the Wood Memorial winner, who went five-eighths in 59 2/5 seconds and galloped out 6 furlongs in 1 minute, 14 seconds.

Royal Tower blew out a half mile in 47 seconds, and went out five-eighths in a minute flat. Chateaugay breezed 35 1-5, and was pulled up in 48 seconds for the half. Never Bend walked the course, Candy Spots and

On My Honor galloped around easily.

"He's coming up to the race on schedule," said John Gaver, the trainer of No Robbery, who won the Wood by 2 1/2 lengths and would have beaten Bonjour by 5 or 6 if he hadn't veered out in the homestretch.

"Apparently my colt hasn't impressed some people," said Woody Stephens, Never Bend's trainer. "Still he must be considerably more than a bum. I notice he has earned a half million dollars and some change." Never Bend won the Flamingo at Hialeah March 2, and has had a race at Churchill Downs, winning the Stepping Stone last Friday.

Long Layoff

Candy Spots hasn't started since winning the Florida Derby March 30 at Gulfstream Park, and some critics were wondering if trainer Mesh Tenney was right in going into the Kentucky classic without a race in 5 weeks.

"This guy isn't any green horn — he knows what he's doing," a bystander volunteered as Candy Spots galloped past a big crowd lining the backstretch railings.

Tenney and Ellsworth, two former Arizona cowboys and partners in their California breeding operation, won the 1955 Derby when Swaps beat Nashua.

In addition to Shut Out, Greentree won a Derby with Twenty Grand in 1931. Both were owned by Mrs. Payne Whitney. Guggenheim is the other owner who has won a Derby. His Dark Star beat Native Dancer in 1953 — only defeat in the great gray colt's career.

Cash Hex

Never Bend faces one hex-no leading money winner as a 2-year-old has come back to capture the Derby the next spring. In recent years Native Dancer, Hasty Road, Jewel's Reward and First Landing topped the juvenile earnings, but lost the Derby. Never Bend earned more than any juvenile in history last season, $402,969, and his current total is $502,484.

Manuel Ycaza, who rides Never Bend, has appeared in 4 Derbies. He was 3rd in 1960 on Victoria Park, and 3rd again with Ridan, the 1962 favorite.

Willie Shoemaker, who pilots Candy Spots, is a veteran of 11 Derbies, winning with Swaps and Tom Lee. Ismael Valenzuela won on Tim Tam and will be aboard Bonjour. Braulio Baeza, who has Chateaugay, was second on Crozier behind Carry Back in 1961 for his best showing. Johnny Rotz rides No Robbery and finished out of the money with Spring Broker and Globemaster.

Willie Mays Honored; Giants Move By Mets

. . . PIRATES Clobber DODGERS

By United Press International

Willie Mays, honored by 49,431 fans in pre-game ceremonies, swung from his heels all night but pitcher Jack Fisher supplied the two-run double that powered the San Francisco Giants to a 5-3 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Fisher delivered his game-winning blow off loser Jay Hook in the 7th inning to snap a 2-2 tie, lead the Giants to their 4th straight triumph and offset two homers by Duke Snider.

Mays did not completely disappoint the noisy Polo Grounds crowd, largest of the major league season so far. The 31-year-old center fielder collected one hit in 4 trips, a 3rd-inning double which put the Giants ahead, 2-1.

The Mets tied the score in the 6th on Ron Hunt's single and a double by Snider, who hit his 4th homer of the sea-

Rockets Bomb Thunderbolts

Home runs by Jerry Motz and Les Tyrrell and a 3-hit pitching performance by Tyrrell stopped Pius X Friday as Lincoln Northeast pounced out a 13-1 win.

A 9-run 5th inning in which John Laird and Bob Scott got two basehits each buried the Thunderbolts.

MORE SURPRISES FROM GOTHAM BOWL

Another surprise from the Gotham Bowl hit the Huskies football camp Friday with the arrival of a large shipment of sport coats.

The Navy Blue sport coats had been promised last winter as part of the Gotham Bowl package, but NU officials had given up on getting them.

But, although the Gotham Bowl is now dead, the coats arrived at the NU Fieldhouse Friday afternoon.

6th inning enabled the Philadelphia Phillies to down the Houston Colts, 4-3. The Colts opened a 3-1 lead on a two-run homer by Howie Goss in the second and a run-scoring double by Carl Warwick in the 5th.

Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Reds turned in a 5-hit, 6-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals for his first shutout since 1959. Rookie Pete Rose's first major league home run featured a 4-run burst by the Reds off loser Ernie Broglio in the 5th inning. Leo Carden also homered for Cincinnati.

The Chicago Cubs chased Warren Spahn in the 3rd inning and went on to total 14 hits in a 10-7 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The Cubs broke a 7-7 tie in the 8th inning on a clutch single by Lou Brock. Ron Santo, Billy Williams and Ernie Banks also homered for Cincinnati.

Huskers Schedule Scrimmage Today

Rookie quarterback Fred Duda will be calling the shots for the No. 2 unit this morning when the Huskers engage in a full scale scrimmage at 9:30 a.m.

Duda was promoted from the 3rd team and will be commanding a youthful backfield composed of Frank Soehn at left half, Bob Hohn at right half and Bruce Smith at fullback.

A knee strain will keep tackle Gary Brichacek out of Saturday's action.

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE MATCH DELAYED AGAIN

New York, (UPI) — The return heavyweight title fight between Sonny Liston and ex-champion Floyd Patterson was postponed for the 3rd time Friday night from June 27 to July 22 at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Promoter Al Bolan announced the postponement in New York and explained it was necessitated by an infection on a knuckle of Patter son's right hand.

He also said the fight would be rescheduled for Aug. 12.

It was originally set for June 27.

It was rescheduled for July 12.

Huskers Schedule Scrimmage Today

Rookie quarterback Fred Duda will be calling the shots for the No. 2 unit this morning when the Huskers engage in a full-scale scrimmage at 9:30 a.m.

Duda was promoted from the 3rd team and will be commanding a youthful backfield composed of Frank Solich at left half, Ron Poggemeyer at right half and John Vujevich at fullback.

The No. 1 backfield, under the control of veteran Dennis Claviger, will have Willie Ross at left half, Kent McCloud at the right position and Gene Young at fullback. Versatile Rudy Johnson will likely see action at all 3 backfield positions.

Twin-sport performer McCloud remained in Lincoln for the scrimmage and did not make the trip to Colorado with the track team.

Another quarterback shift will have Lincoln frosh Dave Lebsack directing the 4th unit rather than the No. 5 squad. Lebsack's cohorts in the backfield list Willie Paschall at left half, Ron Poggemeyer at right half and John Vujevich at fullback.

The No. 3 team has Doug Tucker at quarterback, Ted Vactor at right half, John Sebastian at left half and Joe McNulty at fullback.

A knee strain will keep tackle Gary Brichacek out of Saturday's action.

U.S. Gold Medals Number 96 After Track, Cage Wins

Sao Paulo, Brazil (UPI)—The United States Friday added the men's basketball title to 4 victories scored earlier in the day by Uncle Sam's track and field stars to boost the U.S. total of gold medals to 96 in the Pan American Games.

The U.S. men defeated previously-unbeaten Brazil, 78-66, in the "gold medal" game of the men's basketball tournament Friday night shortly after the U.S. had won 3 unexpected gold medals in women's synchronized swimming and a first-place medal in men's team saber fencing.

The U.S.-Brazil men's basketball game ended in a near riot following a collision between Lincoln McKinney, a 6-foot, 2-inch guard from Berkeley, Calif., and Brazil's Viamir Marques. Fans threw

Committee Okays State Symbol, Slogan 5-0

The Legislature's Public Health Committee today voted and slogan for the State handed 50 endorsement to a bill proposing an official symbol for the symbol, the measure proposes a slogan of "Welcome to NebraskaLand, where the West begins."

No witnesses appeared to testify on the bill, introduced by Sens. Juley Burbach of Crofton, Ross Rasmussen of Hooper and George Gordes of Alliance.

Sen. Jerry Carpenter of Scottsbluff presented the bill on behalf of Burbach.

The proposal LB747, provides for a copy right of the symbol and slogan in the name of the state and proposes its use on state letterheads and envelopes.

In other action the committee heard and advanced on 50 votes

-LB778, providing that the tax imposed on gross receipts of wrestling or boxing matches shall be exclusive of state and federal taxes.

-LB729, providing statutory authority for the licensing of officials serving at wrestling and boxing matches.

Neither bill attracted opposition testimony.

The committee also agreed to sponsor a new bill, outlawing "untruthful, impossible, improbable or misleading statements" in advertising of ophthalmic appliances such as eye glasses.

Tax Bill Scaring Corporations

The wording of a corporation tax amendment to the state income tax bill was reported Friday to be throwing a scare into Nebraska corporations.

But Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton, backer of the income tax bill, said it was not the intention of the amended bill to tax corporate income earned outside Nebraska's borders.

The language of the amendment was being interpreted as compelling such domesticated corporations as Be a Little Foods, Fairmont Foods and many others to pay a tax not only on income earned in Nebraska but also in the other 49 states and from overseas operations.

One corporation lawyer, declining use of his name, predicted that unless the language is changed so the tax bears only upon Nebraska earned income, domesticated corporations will flee the state the instant LB612 becomes law.

As reported out by the revenue committee, LB612 did not tax corporate income. But such an amendment was added on the floor this week measure proposes a slogan of "Welcome to Nebraskaland, where the West begins."

No witnesses appeared to testify on the bill, introduced by Sens. Jules Burbach of Crofton, Ross Rasmussen of Hooper and George Gerdes of Alliance.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff presented the bill on behalf of Burbach.

The proposal, LB747, provides for a copyright of the symbol and slogan in the name of the state, and proposes its use on state letterheads and envelopes.

In other action, the committee heard and advanced on 5-0 votes:

—LB728, providing that the tax imposed on gross receipts of wrestling or boxing matches shall be exclusive of state and federal taxes.

—LB729, providing statutory authority for the licensing of officials serving at wrestling and boxing matches.

Neither bill attracted opposition testimony.

The committee also agreed to sponsor a new bill, outlawing "untruthful, impossible, improbable or misleading statements" in advertising of ophthalmic appliances, such as eye-glasses.

Tax Bill Scaring Corporations

The wording of a corporation-tax amendment to the state income-tax bill was reported Friday to be throwing a scare into Nebraska corporations.

But Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton, backer of the income-tax bill, said it was not the intention of the amended bill to tax corporate income earned outside Nebraska's borders.

The language of the amendment was being interpreted as compelling such domesticated corporations as Beatrice Foods, Fairmont Foods and many others to pay a tax not only on income earned in Nebraska but also in the other 49 states and from overseas operations.

One corporation lawyer, declining use of his name, predicated that unless the language is changed so the tax bears only upon Nebraska-earned income, domesticated corporations will flee the state the instant LB612 becomes law.

As reported out by the revenue committee, LB612 did not tax corporate income. But such an amendment was added on the floor this week.
